Vaccine Report Monday

Clear Enough For Over Million Shots As Mass Inoculation Gains Momentum

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The White House announced today it will release a voluminous report Monday on the Salk polio vaccine program.

The mass inoculation of first and second-grade school children began picking up momentum again, after a week-long suspension for new safety checks, as government scientific inspectors moved into the second of five laboratories making the serum.

Enough vaccine for more than a million shots was released by the U. S. Public Health Service late yesterday as a result of their inspection of the first plant on the list, Parke, Davis & Co., of Detroit.

The check and doublecheck team is now at the Eli Lilly & Co. laboratories in Indianapolis. Other plants to be visited, though not necessarily by the same team, are Pitman-Moore Co., Indianapolis; and Sharp & Dohme, Inc., and Wyeth, Inc., both of Philadelphia.

The product of a sixth manufacturer, Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., has been withdrawn for a special check.

Health officers in several states which have received the newly cleared Parke, Davis & Co. vaccine announced plans for resuming the voluntary inoculations at once, or at least within a few days.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Monday's report will be delivered to President Eisenhower at 9:30 a. m. by Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby, and will be released to the public a few hours later.

The document will include recommendations by Secretary Hobby, whose Health, Education and Welfare Department directed the study.

Mrs. Hobby, whose handling of the polio program has come under some sharp criticism on Capitol Hill, is also scheduled to appear for questioning Monday by the Senate Banking Committee.

County Agent Rates Latest Rain Valuable

Will Permit Good Early Root Growth By Lapedeza Crops

The rains which fell over Pettis County during the past week have been one of the most valuable ones received in years, according to Merle Vaughan, county extension agent.

The moisture, he said, should be sufficient for the farmers to receive considerable root growth on their lespedeza. When droughts come early as they have in the past three years, lespedeza has been unable to make early growth to be of much value through the summer, Vaughan stated.

He said the development this year will still be slow under small grains and heavy pasture grasses but that in drought damaged pastures it will soon provide some grazing.

Small grain crops like wheat and barley should mature well without additional rains but oats will need additional moisture, Vaughan said. He added that without this last rain many fields would have been near failure. Some of the newly seeded grasses and clovers in the small grains were already past help but for the rest it was a life saver.

Farmers feared a wet spell and did not work corn fields down at plowing time. The dry weather meant much corn planted in dry, cloddy beds and some resulting poor stands that may need replanting, Vaughan said.

Little cut worm damage has been reported to the county extension office even though cut worms usually work to the surface of the ground in wet weather.

Any corn cut off now will be more likely to survive than if cut off near the kernel earlier, Vaughan stated. The week of rain should have been damaging to hatching grasshoppers but on the other hand some bright days now will bring out a lot more, he warned.

Vaughan advises farmers to stand ready to spray fence rows and other hatching beds where they find the hoppers hatching in numbers. Five recommended materials are aldrin, toxaphene, heptachlor, dieldrin and chlordane. The amount needed per acre now is only half as much as later, Vaughan said.

Dairymen are advised to take heed from three previous droughts to plant some sudan grass. Moisture is now adequate and an acre will carry two or three cows, depending on fertility, during July, August and September, Vaughan said. The trouble during 1953 occurred when cattle were first turned into fields. Using certified seed, he said, and having the cattle full and watching them when first turned into a field will reduce the existing dangers.

Atlas sorgo for silage is added insurance, Vaughan related that Carl Raines told the Soils and Crops conference of having it in their crop rotation every year for over 20 years and it was resistant to both grasshoppers and drought. Vaughan said that besides helping present crops very much, the rain is giving Pettis county farmers the opportunity to take the suggested drought insurance policies with the premiums of sudan grass and sorgo seed.

Pettis Farm Bureau Membership Group Plans Next Campaign

The Membership Committee of the Pettis County Farm Bureau met at the Farm Bureau Office Wednesday night May 11 and made plans for the next membership campaign which will be held in August.

W. C. Corlew, Chairman, presided.

Everyone was very enthusiastic about the prospects of a good year and feel that Pettis County will exceed her quota.

Farm Bureau is growing all over the United States; therefore, there is no reason why Pettis County should not keep pace with the rest of the counties and states. Dave C. Keller, District Fieldman, and W. P. McCune, County President, were on hand to assist in the plans.

Reds Sign Military Alliance

Soviet Union, 7 European Red States Ink Pact For Single Command

WARSAW, Poland, May 14 (AP)—The Soviet Union and seven East European Communist states set up a unified military command today to counter the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev was made supreme commander, with headquarters in Moscow.

The eight allies signed a 20-year mutual security and friendship treaty and a protocol grouping their military forces under a single command. Konev, the deputy Soviet defense minister, has been a Communist party member for 37 years.

The treaty ceremonies took place in a white and marble hall of Poland's Parliament building. Premiers of the eight nations—the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Albania and East Germany—signed the documents.

Later, nearly 100,000 cheering residents of Warsaw jammed into Twardzinsky Square and heard top Communist leaders hail the new treaty as "a move for world peace."

Premier Nikolai Bulganin of the Soviet Union declared the "Paris accords rearming West Germany sponsored" a new and dangerous militarism.

"We want peace," he cried, "but we will defend our countries by all means."

The loudest cheers and applause came when Bulganin told the crowd of Konev's appointment as supreme commander. He reminded the crowd that it was Konev who led the armies which liberated much of Poland from the Nazis.

Western diplomats believe the Russians have been in over-all command of their satellites' armed forces for some time and that today's Warsaw action does not change the existing situation.

But the pact gives the Russians a legal framework under which Soviet troops can remain in the satellite nations through individual treaties between the Soviet Union and each country.

The U. S. government estimates the armed strength of these European Communist nations at more than six million men in from 175 to 225 Russian divisions and 80 satellite divisions. NATO divisions number about 100, with West Germany to contribute later a 12-division army of 350,000 men.

Russia Accepts West's Invitation To Big 4 Parley In Vienna

VIENNA, Sunday, May 15 (AP)—Russia late yesterday accepted the American-British-French invitation to a Big Four parley at the summit to discuss East-West tensions.

An official British spokesman said the foreign ministers of the four powers reached a "general agreement on the purposes and methods of operation" suggested in the Western note to Russia earlier last week for the meeting of President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden, French Premier Faure and Soviet Premier Bulganin.

Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave his country's assent to the meeting in a formal 4½-hour conference with the British, French and American foreign ministers last night at the American Embassy.

The dinner followed an earlier meeting at which the four foreign ministers, joined by Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figel, approved the treaty giving Austria her independence and freedom after 17 years of occupation.

CIVIL WAR RELIC SILENT IN "BATTLE"—This relic of the Civil War was to have played a major role in the Battle of Lexington reenactment by Wentworth Military Academy Cadets at Lexington, Mo., but heavy rains, which added reality to the battle, ran down the barrel and soaked the powder before it could be fired. The gun was used in its original place in the restaging of the 1861 battle. (NEA Telephoto)

SAIGON CIVILIANS FLEE DANGER—With the screech of bullets and the bursting of bombs in their ears, a mother and child run down the tree-lined Boulevard Gallieni, scene of some of the heaviest fighting in the civil war that exploded in Saigon, Indochina. In the background, a mother and two of her children disregard the danger as they stop to gather up their belongings, dropped in their hasty flight. (NEA Telephoto)

Legislature Wants to Quit By Thursday

Would Leave 12 Days Routine Work Before Automatic Deadline of May 31

JEFFERSON CITY, May 14 (AP)—The Missouri Legislature wants to quit Wednesday or at least Thursday of this next week.

That would be almost a week later than the first deadline for active floor work but it still would leave 11 or 12 days for the routine work of employees before the automatic deadline May 31.

And there's still some big chores to do.

Of the major legislation, the principal bills of the mental health program, the governor's proposed $75 million building bond issue, a proposal for annual legislative sessions and the key foundation program for schools are through both houses. They either await approval by the governor or acceptance by the voters.

Still pending:

The explosive sales tax increase from two to two and a half percent—the one that caused all the furor the past few days. But a House committee vice-chairman has called a meeting on it for Monday, apparently ignoring hearings set for May 24 and 31 by the committee chairman, Rep. Joseph M. Tanner (D) of Jackson County. He set the dates and then left town to the consternation of many legislators. Yesterday, his vice-chairman, Rep. Roy D. Eddy (D) of Buchanan County pushed the hearing up to Monday.

The key penal bill—passed by the House and awaiting full Senate action.

The probation and parole measure—stuck in Senate committee after House passage.

Aid for local roads—passed by the House but pending in the Senate with substantial amendments. It could cause House-Senate trouble.

A batch of others that caused bitter argument this year either are still pending, are already dead or are dying of inattention along the way.

Strangely this time, there has been little trouble with appropriation bills. They have sailed through the House and Senate with only routine adjustments so far. About half a dozen of them still are pending.

Groups, according to make of combines, will then assemble in different rooms to get more detailed instruction of the combine in which they are most interested. The dealers will have representatives for their groups.

The combine clinic is so designed to give you a better working knowledge of the proper adjustments and storage problems so you can harvest a higher quality of grain.

AF Reports Plane Missing; Search Begun

DENVER (AP)—An Air Force C45 twin-engine plane was reported missing Saturday on a flight from Minneapolis, Minn., to Dexter, Mo., by the 44th Air Rescue Squadron at Lowry Air Force Base here.

A spokesman said the plane departed from Minneapolis at 8 p. m. yesterday and was last reported over Quincy, Ill.

The squadron has sent two search planes into the area the missing plane would have traveled. Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich., also was conducting a search along with Civil Air Patrol planes from Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri.

At Dexter, Mo., Roy Wilson, manager of the airport, said the plane, piloted by Lt. Col. Francis J. Carlson, an instructor at nearby Malden, Mo., Air Force Base, left Minneapolis at 7:15 p. m. and was due here at 11:45 p. m.

Wilson said there were no passengers in the plane and he didn't know the purpose of the flight. Carlson, about 30, the father of four children, lives at Dexter, Mo.

The Sedalia Squadron Civil Air Patrol has been pressed into the search for the missing plane. Maj. Bill Padgett, commanding officer of the Sedalia Squadron, ordered Capt. Jack Kehl, operations officer, to report to St. Louis to assist in the search.

Capt. Kehl was accompanied by M/Sgt. Calvin Studebaker in the L-16 two-place plane which has been assigned to the local squadron.

The two reported to the Kratz airport in St. Louis, where instructions for their participation in the search were issued by the commander of the Missouri Wing of the CAP.

Capt. Kehl and Sgt. Studebaker left the Sedalia Municipal Memorial Airport at 1:45 p. m. Saturday and arrived in St. Louis about 3 p. m.

This is the third "Red Cap" search the Sedalia Squadron has taken an active part in. In one previous search it was the Sedalia plane which spotted and located the missing plane which was lost between St. Louis and Poplar Bluff, Mo., several months ago.

Dulles Gives Nation Report Tuesday Night

Will Be Introduced By the President; Cabinet to Watch

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—With President Eisenhower as his "announcer," Secretary of State Dulles will report to the nation Tuesday night on negotiations for a Big Four meeting and other historic events.

Dulles will speak in the President's office in the presence of ranking Cabinet colleagues and his words will be broadcast by TV and radio. He will be introduced by the President.

The White House announced the broadcast today in a manner to suggest that Eisenhower wants to give it a full blast of publicity to assure the largest possible audience, and also demonstrate his full support for his secretary of state.

Dulles will report on all aspects of his current mission to Europe, including the seating of West Germany as a member of the Atlantic Alliance in ceremonies at Paris, talks with British and French leaders on the Indochina crisis and the signing of an Austrian peace treaty in Vienna tomorrow.

But major interest focused on the prospects for top-level Big Four talks to ease world tensions. Dulles will have had full opportunity to assess at first hand Foreign Minister Molotov's reaction to the Big Four session plans. He was meeting with Molotov and other foreign ministers today in Vienna. Thus he could gain some fresh impressions of what the Russians are up to in world affairs—with their sudden agreement to an Austrian pact and with the visit of their top leaders, Premier Bulganin and Communist boss Khrushchev to Yugoslavia shortly.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty disclosed that Dulles will return to Washington Monday and broadcast to the nation from President Eisenhower's office Tuesday night between 7 and 7:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time. (5:5-30 CST)

All four national TV networks will carry the report at that time. The radio networks will record it for later broadcast: ABC beginning at 8 p. m. EDT, (6 p. m. est) Mutual at 9:30 p. m. EDT, (7:30 p. m. CST) CBS and NBC at 10:30 p. m., EDT, (8:30 p. m. CST)

Local Lions Plan Large Delegation To District Meet

The Sedalia Lions are planning a large delegation to the Lions International District 26-C convention to be held at Boonville on Sunday, May 22. At this meeting Ed B. Smith, past president of the Sedalia Club, will be installed as District Governor to succeed Kenneth Chrisman of Moberly.

Smith, however, will be officially installed by Lions International at the annual convention to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., June 24. Seventeen members have already made reservations for the convention and fifteen of their wives will also be in attendance. Others are expected to make the trip from the local club.

The installation of officers for the Sedalia Club for the 1955-56 year will be held at a night meeting on Wednesday, June 8, to be at a dinner-meeting in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

Big Four Approve Treaty

VIENNA, Austria, May 14 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers approved today a treaty setting up Austria as a free, independent and neutral nation.

It took the ministers just 80 minutes to review and make a last-minute change in the treaty which after its ratification will mean the end of more than 17 years of military occupation—by Nazis and then by their conquerors—for this Danubian nation of seven million. The Russians blocked the pact for 10 years and then unexpectedly gave in. It will be signed tomorrow morning.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figel were present.

Figel called upon the Big Four ministers to drop a phrase from the treaty preamble that would have perpetuated Austria's share of the blame for starting World War II.

Tomorrow the treaty will be signed in 18th century Belvedere Palace. The hour set was 11:30 a. m.

The ministers' agreement in this beflagged and occupied—but now happy—city that has seen many foreign armies come and go was a step toward the possible ending of the cold war.

The Big Four meeting with Figel was the first of two meetings today.

Dulles, Macmillan, Pinay and Molotov had dinner later in the U. S. Embassy. Each minister, with five aides, came prepared to talk informally about the American-British-French invitation to Moscow to join in a conference of government chiefs called to ease the tensions that divide East and West.

Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay agreed at once, Molotov, who had been nominated as chairman of the session by Dulles, quickly followed suit. That set the pattern for a lightning review and final okay for the revised treaty's 38 articles, upon which the Big Four ambassadors in Vienna had already reached agreement.

Dulles, the first to emerge from the Allied Control Council building on Stainplatz where the ministers met, was greeted by deafening cheers from thousands of waiting Viennese.

Macmillan and Molotov followed and the Russian smilingly waved to the crowd. Pinay was almost swallowed by the pressing throngs as he came out with Figel, smiling happily, told his countrymen:

"Everything finished, everything well done, the preamble settled. Good luck to you all."

House Faces New Round of Debate On Arms Policy

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The House opens a second round of debate of military policies when it considers, probably Tuesday, a new billion-dollar program to increase the active reserves fourfold.

Administration spokesmen say more reserves are necessary to back up the proposed reduction of 102,300 men in the standing forces. The goal is a trained reserve of 2,900,000 by 1960, costing a billion dollars a year more to maintain than the present 700,000 active reservists.

After long debate, the House approved the cutback in standing forces Thursday in voting 31½ billion dollars for defense next year.

The new debate is expected to involve charges—and denials—that President Eisenhower's new reserve program opens the way for Universal Military Training. Attempts also are expected to soften the military duty requirements of a bill to carry out the program.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee predicts the measure will be passed without major change.

Always Wanted to Teach in Sedalia—

Mrs. Estelle Ellis' Love for Children Has Been Greatest Factor in Teaching Success

Cartwright School, near Hughesville, is close to the heart of Estelle Jenkins Ellis, teacher at Broadway School, so close that she, her husband, Virgil Ellis, and son, Barry, own the place where the school is located and still operates. That was the last school in which her mother taught and the first one in which Estelle taught. But there is even more than that. It was in Cartwright that Estelle and Virgil went to elementary school—and that was where they "claimed" each other.

Estelle was born at Hughesville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. Jenkins, and grew up in the neighborhood. At the end of some seven years at Cartwright, when Miss Robin Raines, now deceased, was teacher, Estelle entered the district spelling meet at Warrensburg and she was eliminated on a word that she loved, because all youngsters love it—Hallowe'en. She left out the apostrophe between the two "e's," as it was given in the new Webster dictionary.

That same year Estelle and Virginia Lower Farris gave a team 4-H demonstration at the Missouri State Fair on "How to Make an Apron." Robert Clough then was extension agent, and he taught her to model, so Estelle represented Pettis County in the first style show held at the Missouri State Fair.

At her graduation from Cartwright School she won first place in the county examinations and was awarded a four-year scholarship to Smith-Cotton. The first seven weeks she was absent from high school but came back to rank third in a very close race for valedictorian standing. In Smith-Cotton she was president of the French Club and active in dramatics under Miss Eunice Cousey.

After graduation Estelle attended Park College where she was assistant to Dean of Women Mrs. Ruth Schall, was on the championship volleyball team four years, was president of the Lucerne Literary Society, vice-president of YWCA, a member of Beta Phi Theta and eligible for Theta Alpha Phi.

In the summers of 1933 and 1934 she worked on the SS North America, steamship on the Great Lakes. This was really an adventure and nine girls from Park College roomed together. In 1935 she had an equally interesting and different job. She taught horseback riding at Camp Strawderman, Va. In 1940 she traveled 9,000 miles over western states and several times has traveled over the eastern states, New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Niagara, and one summer she attended the University of Pennsylvania.

It was at Cartwright School on that first day of teaching that she felt very sure of her adequate training as a teacher but she was meek—maybe a little bit scared of the big task confronting her. It was that first day of inexperience in her new profession, too, that a third grade boy chose to climb a tree, 20 feet up and couldn't get down. The only thing the young teacher could think to do, was to have him fall the 20 feet into her arms and she caught him enough to break the fall. But that wasn't all, as he landed in her arms, both sleeves tore out of her good silk dress.

Estelle thinks that Sedalia had always been her goal. Living at Hughesville, Sedalia had been a favorite place from her first remembrance—when she was offered a contract here it came as a great surprise. Immediately she accepted.

It was Miss Helen Shriver, Latin instructor at Smith-Cotton, who is now Mrs. Sam Townsend and on leave from Pershing School in St. Louis, who influenced Estelle to go on with her training in languages. Now she is teaching English in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades at Broadway School, and while she has taught other subjects this, she thinks, seems to fit better than any other.

She firmly believes in a functional approach to teaching and learning. Children are ready to learn when they see a need for it, and consequently she spends a great deal of time and thought on motivation. Too, she believes that a teacher's attitude is very important in the development of our future citizens. If she had it to do over again, Estelle knows what she would do. She would be a teacher. There is so much of an opportunity to guide children, she feels, and to be of some use in the world. Children, she finds, are interesting, alert and lovable and with their little faults, which after all, are only human, she loves them deeply and is happy that she has chosen a field to train them.

She is glad that she has a child of her own, too. Berry attends Broadway School and is in the sixth grade. She is mighty proud of him and the fact he played on the championship football team last fall.

Estelle is a member of American Association of University Women, serving as the first president of the Sedalia branch two full years. She is also a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary organization for teachers, and for three years was 4-H Community Leader.

School is about out and the summer is before her. What does she plan to do? Raise about 2,000 bronze turkeys—and at the end of the summer, school will start—and then there is Thanksgiving.

But now the summer draws near and Estelle expects a summer of happiness out in the country with Virgil and Barry and all of her turkeys.

County Cerebral Palsy Drive Is Outlined and Ready to Go

According to Harold W. Barrick, president of the United Cerebral Palsy of Pettis County, Inc., the local campaign drive for cerebral palsy during the month of May has now been outlined and various local and county organizations have volunteered to cooperate again this year. There have been a number of benefits already arranged by these organizations and will be announced within the next few days.

Barrick explained that the national drive was opened in Washington, D. C. on May 5, when Vice President and Mrs. Richard N. Nixon officially lit a replica of the Beacon of Hope, symbol of the drive.

Three small cerebral palsied children presented the Vice President and his wife with the 16-inch plastic beacon which had been designed and constructed at the United Cerebral Palsy Industrial Training Workshop of Los Angeles. The Nixons then turned a small switch which illuminated the flame of the beacon, thus signaling the opening of the nation-wide drive for funds. The year's goal for the whole country is $10,000,000.

It was further related by Barrick that last Monday President Dwight D. Eisenhower was presented with a scroll by Leonard H. Goldenson, UCP Chairman of the Board and President of American Broadcasting - Paramount Theaters, Inc.; Jack Hausman, UCP president and president of M. Hausman and Sons; Roger S. Firestone, UCP 1955 national campaign chairman and president of the Firestone Plastics Co.; Joseph A. Martino, 1955 campaign chairman of New York City and president of the National Lead Co.; and William Clay Ford, UCP 1954 national campaign chairman and vice president of the Ford Motor Co.

The scroll paid tribute to President Eisenhower for humanitarian service and inspiring support of America's Cerebral Palsied.

Sets Aside Sentence As Reprimand Against Offender's Attorney

ST. LOUIS (AP) — U. S. District Judge Roy W. Harper has set aside a 12-year prison sentence for a man who pleaded guilty to a narcotics charge, and criticized the man's attorney for giving his client bad advice.

Judge Harper said Friday he was acting on an affidavit by DeWitte Lawson, attorney and Democratic city alderman, that stated Irvin Bartlett was not aware he was pleading guilty to sale of heroin.

"If this is true, this lawyer should not be allowed to practice in federal court," the judge said. The judge said Lawson told him after the sentencing last week that he had not read the criminal information against Bartlett before advising him to plead guilty.

Bartlett appeared in court Friday, said he would get another lawyer and would plead innocent at another arraignment.

Hijinks Continue Over Tax Bill Left in Office

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Rep. Joseph Tanner of Kansas City says the controversial bill to increase the state sales tax one-half percent is somewhere in his office here.

Tanner, chairman of the House committee on governmental organization, tried to kill the bill by scheduling hearings on it May 24 and May 31 in face of the May 31 adjournment limit.

Then he disappeared Thursday and no one could find the bill. Considerable heat was generated in the legislature.

Proponents contend the sales tax increase, already approved by the Senate, is necessary to finance a school improvement program.

Tanner was located by telephone Friday night at Americus, Kan., where he has a house and a nearby farm.

He said he intends to return here May 24. Told that his office had been searched for the bill, he replied:

"Well, maybe they haven't looked hard enough. I don't know just exactly where it is, but it's in my office somewhere."

The vice chairman of Tanner's committee, Rep. Roy D. Eddy of St. Joseph, said yesterday he would hold a hearing on a printed copy of the bill Monday.

Normandy Girl Wins Miss Missouri Title

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sharon F. Knickmeyer, 19-year-old blonde of suburban Normandy, is Miss Missouri of 1955.

She was crowned by Lee Ann Meriwether, Miss America of 1955, at the finals Friday night. She won over 14 other Missouri girls competing for the right to represent the state at next fall's Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J. Miss Knickmeyer, 5 feet, 5 inches tall, is a sophomore at Fontbonne College.

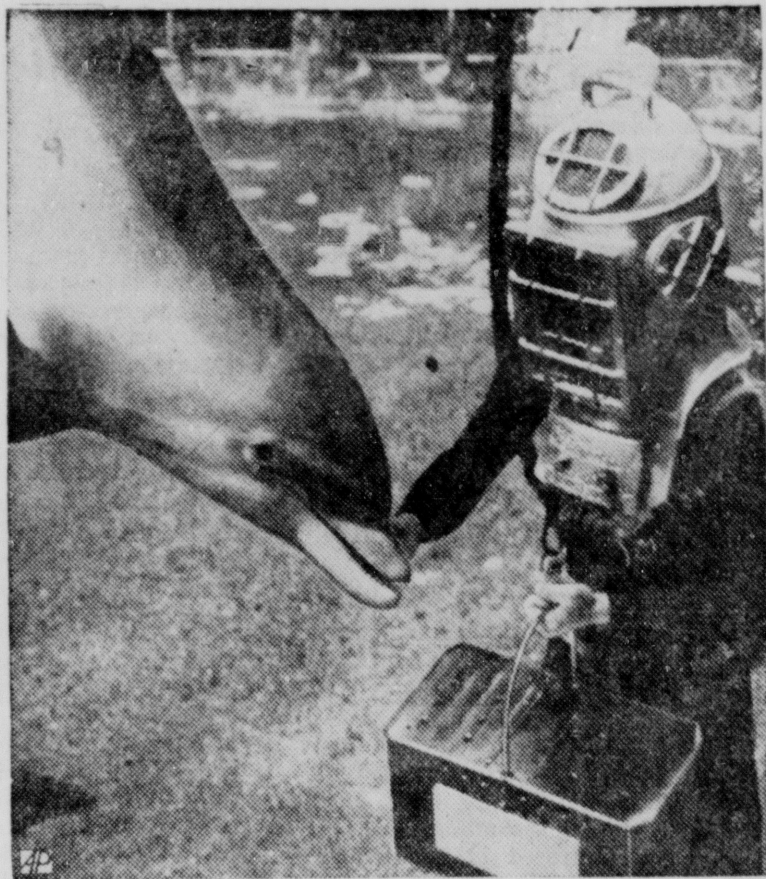

Missouri Has 7,123 Active Air Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kansas has 6,652 active airplane pilots and Missouri 7,123, the Civil Aeronautics Administration said today.

An active pilot is one whose medical certificate is up to date. California has twice as many such pilots as any other state. It has 40,707 compared with second-place Texas's 20,202.

The CAA tabulation lists a national total of 660,449 pilots, of whom 311,659 are active.

Public Library Notes—

Foreign Lands Are Featured In New Non-Fiction Books

The Klondike, Arabia, Turkey and the romantic islands of the South Seas are featured in new non-fiction books at the Sedalia Public Library. "Doctor to the Islands," by Tom and Lydia Davis, is the true story of a young doctor, part Polynesian and part Welsh, who helps his own people on the island of Rarotonga in their struggle for health and well-being. His wife, a New Zealand girl, travelled with her husband to the furthermost atolls in the Cook group, assisting him in his clinics. Their book is the fascinating account of a way of life entirely foreign to westerners.

"Merry misadventures from Canes to Istanbul," describes "Time Out for Turkey," by David Dodge. Between laughs there is a storehouse of invaluable information about the Balkans, Turkey and Italy.

In 1907 a young Toronto girl went north to teach in brawling Dawson City, capital of the Klondike. For the next 25 years she lived there, married and raised a family among some of the world's most interesting people. "I Married the Klondike" is Laura Beatrice Bertson's autobiography—the memories of her adventures and experiences in an extraordinary place.

"Qataban and Sheba" by Wendell Phillips deals with the exploration of the ancient kingdoms on the Biblical spice routes of Arabia.

Phillips conducted one of the most important archaeological expeditions of the last two decades, and as Lowell Thomas says, "he is a combination of Aladdin, Sindbad the Sailor, and Ali Baba—in other words, he's incredible."

Memories of a boyhood in North Carolina is contained in William Meade Prince's book, "The Southern Part of Heaven," one of the most delightful books to appear in some time.

Anne Morrow Lindbergh's first book in eleven years, "Gift From the Sea," has its setting on the sea shore. The time is a brief vacation which had lifted her from the distractions of everyday existence into the sphere of meditation. The treasures of the deep—perfect and rare shells—become symbols for the various aspects of life she is contemplating.

A much-written about family, the Barrymores, is again represented in the new books. "Memories," is Ethel Barrymore's autobiography, and in it she reveals herself: a superlative artist, and a human being of spirit and charm, whose story is a living piece of contemporary America.

Kansas College recently learned that 800 of the 3,848 men students on its campus are married.

Courteous Cabbie Proves Still Active By Winning Award

ST. LOUIS (AP)—William Harder, a St. Louis cab driver, offers himself as proof that old age doesn't mean a man can't do a good day's work.

Harder, 82, has never had an accident. He also won a $30 prize from his employer yesterday because of courtesy. Courtesy, Harder said, is something the younger drivers should learn—"it pays off in big tips."

A native of the Sioux reservation at International Falls, Minn., Harder was a railroad employee 53

New Towboat Symbol Of Growing Stature Of Missouri Traffic

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The new towboat Lachlan MacLeay of the Federal Barge Line is heading up the Missouri River today on her maiden voyage pushing 10,000 tons of cargo.

"I decided then if I took it easy for one year, I would be 'gone,'" he said. "So I started driving a cab to be among people."

His golden rule for cabbies: Be friendly; be helpful to unfortunate persons; take the shortest route to the destination.

Union Leaders Report No Progress In Ending Meter Readers Strike

ST. LOUIS, May 14 (P)—A meeting of union leaders with striking LaCede Gas Co. meter readers ended today without progress toward ending a walkout which put the firm's 1,700 workers off their jobs yesterday.

After today's meeting with the 75 meter readers, the union's business agent, William LaVelle, said a special meeting of the union's general membership of about 1,700 will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

All are members of the CIO Chemical, Oil and Atomic Workers Union, Local 8-6.

The meter readers set up picket lines yesterday in a surprise move protesting what they called the company's failure to pay them overtime last Tuesday for time lost because of rain. LaVelle labeled it a "wildcat strike."

A LaCede spokesman said service won't be interrupted unless the strike is prolonged. Supervisory employees have kept service going.

Alexander Farm Is Beauty Spot In Springtime

One of the real beauty spots of Sedalia this time of year is the peony farm of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Alexander, 2305 East 16th. This stretch of ground with between two and three acres of peonies in bloom, may be seen from Highway 50, from Marshall Avenue or from 16th, with its mass of pink and white blossoms. There are also red peonies in the field.

About ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Alexander purchased the place from a Mr. Hood who lives in Batesville, Ark. The peony field was taken care of first by William Brown and later by Roy Colaflower, but since the Alexanders purchased it, Mr. Alexander has done the work. He cultivates the field all during the year and some of the flowers are as large as a half gallon bucket.

It is from this field that local people for the past 20 odd years have bought their peonies for Memorial Day and while many are left in the field for the brilliant display a large number are put in cold storage to be ready for the decorating of graves. This has been the custom of the growers of peonies in this field for many years.

Right now and for the next several days the peony field will be at its best.

Two Hand-Outs Begin Publication in County

Coincident with inauguration of the Sentinel-Star the past week, was also resumption of publication of the Weekly Free Press. This latter is sponsored by the Sedalia Times Publishing Co., owned and operated by Stanton Hudson who also publishes the Weekly Sedalia Times newspaper. The Free Press is a throw away publication. Rabbits on the Run

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (P)—Two rabbits have members of the Virginia Beach Civitan club hopping like mad in a club membership drive. The drive works like this:

The names of members who haven't brought new members into the club are drawn from a hat two at a time. The two get custody of the rabbits and must keep them until two new Civitans are enrolled. Then the procedure is repeated.

Reason for the fast shuffling is both rabbits are soon to be mothers.

Senior Council Holds Annual Banquet on Friday Evening

By LARRY OWEN

The senior high school student council held its annual banquet in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria on Friday evening. The president of the senior student council, Richard "Buck" Bennett, presided over the meeting.

The decorations and theme for the affair were along the theme of "Highways." Immediately behind the head table was a large backdrop of black on which were signs that are found on all rural and city highways. In the center of each table were strips of black crepe paper representing highways and centered on each of these "highways" were typical highway signs and markers.

After the meal, Richard Bennett presented Miss Hazel Gray, the sponsor, a gift from the student council.

A girls' trio composed of Bernice Bacon, Betty Cleons, and Clo Greer sang "Highways Are Happy Ways." They were accompanied by Willis Ann Rosenthal. Craig Brounger played a medley of musicals from "Show Business."

Larry Owen, vice-president of the senior student council, gave a tribute to the retiring president, "Buck" Bennett, entitled "A Highway Engineer." Following his talk he presented a gift from the council to Bennett.

The Rev. Edward R. Sims, pastor of the Calvary Episcopal Church, spoke to the students of the council on "Highways."

Richard Bennett then handed over his gavel to Jim Swafford, president-elect of the senior student council.

Blackwater Soldier In Training Maneuver

Pfc. Bobby L. Ashford, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Ashford, Blackwater, recently took part in a field leadership training maneuver with the 7th Field Artillery Battalion in Germany.

Operated with a depleted officer staff, the exercise was designed to test the leadership of the non-commissioned officers. Defensive maneuvers were stressed as the battalion faced a simulated attack. Pfc. Ashford, a fire direction center specialist with the battalion's Battery A, entered the Army in September, 1953, and arrived overseas the following February. He is a 1949 graduate of Booneville High School.

Tie-In Seems Likely in New Russian Moves

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Russia's dramatic plan to send its top leaders to see Yugoslavia's Premier Tito appears to tie in closely with the Soviet Union's decision to grant Austria its freedom.

Austrian government leaders who went to Moscow recently to prepare the way for Big Four signature of this nation's independence treaty tomorrow are not surprised.

These leaders believe they fully understand the long-range strategic reasons for Russia's plumping sudden freedom in the laps of the surprised Austrians and who now the Kremlin bosses are going to see Tito. They are firmly convinced this is the Soviet aim:

To create a neutral belt of states in Europe extending from the Arctic Ocean to the Mediterranean. The years-long purpose would be to play for time for the Russians to build up their own strength and tear down that of the West.

To achieve the neutral belt, the Austrians say the Russians have:

1. Given Austria freedom in return for a promise of neutrality. Neighboring Switzerland also is neutral. This creates a 600-mile wide neutral strip across the militarily important Alps from Hungary to the French-Swiss frontier.
2. Been working on Yugoslavia to loosen ties with the Western military alliance. The trip of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, Austrian officials say, clearly meant to exert a little more pressure on their former Communist ally.

3. Sweden is traditionally neutral. Recent Russian moves indicate a desire for more amicable relations with the Swedes to keep them in the neutral camp.

There is a missing link in the Soviet belt—Germany.

In Western countries, there has been much speculation that Russia's aim is to persuade the Germans they may obtain unity of their divided country if they also agree to neutrality.

But Austrian government leaders say their talks with the Russians lead to the conclusion that Russia really does not want a United Germany. They are convinced Russia is afraid of a united Germany of 70 million people—whether it is armed or completely neutral.

Home In Jail

DENVER (AP) — A 60-year-old cabinetmaker, has been instrumental in establishing a branch of the city library in jail.

William M. Zenker has been in jail since Feb. 24, 1954, for contempt of court. He was sentenced to an indefinite term for refusing to divulge where he buried $10,000 the court claims belongs to his ex-wife and which he says should go to a daughter he hasn't seen for years and can't locate.

When he went to jail, Zenker immediately devoted himself to taking care of the few paper-back books available. When his own case was publicized, he managed to direct attention to the lack of reading material in the county institution.

With his urging, the county jail officially became a branch of the Denver Public Library. Warden Gordon Dolliver says the arrangement makes 500 books available to the inmates.

With the establishment of the library, Zenker — who can get out of jail any time he tells where the money is — has been named official librarian and Dolliver reports:

"He's so pleased with his new assignment and responsibilities, I doubt now whether he ever tell where he buried the dough — he likes it here."

Bond Sales Nearing Halfway to the Goal With $470,957 Sold

J. J. McGrath, Chairman of the Pettis County Savings Bonds Committee, announced today that April Savings Bond sales in the county totaled $87,254.

"This", he said, "brings Bond sales for the first four months this year in the county to $470,957 or 47 per cent of our '55 goal."

R. E. L. Hill, state chairman of the Missouri Savings Bonds Committee, said: "April Bond sales in Missouri totaled $15,180,226. The four - month sales in the state now total $63,461,004 for 39.9 per cent of our goal of $159,000,000. Ninety - one of the counties have achieved 34 per cent of their goal, 33 are over 60 per cent, and two have attained 80 per cent."

Foot Troubles Are Avoidable By Guidance

Most foot troubles are the result of faulty foot habits developed in childhood largely as a result of parental neglect, according to the American Foot Health Foundation, sponsor of Foot Health Week, May 13-20.

Though 98 out of 100 persons come into the world with perfect feet, by the time they are 20 years of age 80 per cent suffer from serious foot ailments. The majority of these ailments could have been prevented by adequate foot care in childhood.

Millions of parents carefully cultivate habits of good manners in their children but fail to teach them habits of good foot health, in the opinion of the Foundation, which declares that many mothers train children in the rules of other hygiene but neglect the foundation of bodily health — foot hygiene.

Often children whose parents teach them how to brush their hair are told little or nothing about how to cut their toe nails.

It is essential that a child acquire wholesome foot health habits at an early age. The younger a child is, the softer and more pliable are the 26 bones in each foot. As he grows, calcium deposits increase and his bones gradually harden. It takes twenty years before the human foot assumes the form it will retain permanently.

Parents of young children who are learning to walk are advised by the Foundation to have their children examined by a competent and professionally licensed chiropodist who will determine whether the child's foot posture needs balancing in order to grow normally. He will recommend certain foot exercises to strengthen the feet and he will advise parents on the kind of shoes, socks and stockings that are best for the child.

The modern chiropodist stresses prevention.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkman from Sedalia have rented the property of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Melendy in east Smithton and are moving this week. The Melendys live in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Simms of Springfield, Mo. spent the weekend in Smithton visiting with her chil-dren, the Harold Scott, Archie People and W. E. Hudson families.

At the last meeting of the City Council it was ordered that Wil-liam K. Gibson, Attorney for the City of Smithton prepare an ordi-nance to be inculeated into the laws of the city government on the disposition of stray dogs and the responsibility of dog owners. There is already a dog tax of $1 on male dogs and $2 on female dogs. Dogs are said to be man's best friend, but they need an owner who will care for them and see that they do not trespass on other people.

Smithton is very proud of the new water system. It is all com-pleted and serves 125 families, the school, churches and business places. Only four houses in town do not have this service. The ef-ficiency of the new fire organiza-tion was demonstrated in putting out the fire in the Bremer duplex this week. It should serve even better when the new fire engine and extra hose arrives.

Roy Lujin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lujin, will continue teach-ing Social Studies and Drivers' Training in the Corona Senior High School, Corona, California. He also teaches these subjects at night school in the Adult Education Pro-gram.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welling of Beaman and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lujin went to Holden Sunday and visited in the home of A. H. Gro-jan and family. Mr. Grojan is a brother of Mrs. Lujin and Mrs. Welling. Mrs. William Fisk, a daughter of the Grojans from In-dependence, Mo. and who has been confined in the hospital there, was able to visit in the home also.

Mrs. Chas. Griffin, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Monsees and Mr. Monsees of Kansas City is at home here for an indefinite stay.

Marilyn Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Green, who is majoring in music at Christian College, Columbia, has appear-ed on several television programs recently.

The condition of Mr. Robert Griffin, who has been ill in the University of Kansas Hospital in Kansas City, remains about the same.

Claims GOP 'Mishandled' Vaccine Case

CLEVELAND — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler has accused the Eisenhower ad-ministration of "mishandling" the Salk polio vaccine situation.

Butler spoke of "heartbreaking confusion" and said "a thorough government inspection in the be-ginning could have avoided this confusion."

The Democratic chairman struck out at the administration on this and other counts in a speech pre-pared for a meeting of the Fed-erated Democratic Women of Ohio.

He said U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele, head of the Public Health Service, "has pro-claimed his faith in the vaccine and no one will quarrel with his recommendation for a more thor-ough check."

"But it is difficult to under-stand," Butler added, "... why the government didn't take the leadership in the beginning and thus avoid the mishandling that has occurred ..."

The government yesterday sig-naled a limited resumption, after a week-long suspension for a safety recheck, of the program, for inoculating millions of first and second graders.

Butler also criticized administra-tion plans for assuring equitable distribution of the Salk vaccine for commercial use, after the present free school program is completed.

"No action is being taken to as-sure fair distribution of the new discovery, still in short supply," Butler said.

"In the haphazard distribution method worked out by Secretary (of Welfare) Hobby, doctors and drug manufacturers, there was no guarantee that the most suscep-tible age group would get the vac-cine first. There was no provision made for those states with a short-age of doctors, nor for those chil-dren in low income groups who couldn't afford to pay."

Red Command Head Ordered Beria's Death

Associated Press Foreign Staff
Marshal Ivan Konev, the su-preme commander of the new East European Communist unified mil-itary command, is the man the Kremlin picked to condemn to death the former secret police chief, Lavrenty Beria.

Konev is the man Joseph Stalin used to replace popular Marshal Georgi Zhukov in 1946 as deputy minister of armed forces and com-mander of Soviet land forces.

Konev is the man the present rulers of the Soviet Union—Com-munist party boss Nikita Khrush-chev and Premier Nikolai Bulgan-in—are using as a counterweight against any possibility Zhukov might get too big as minister of defense.

Russians who claim to know say Zhukov has an intense dislike for Konev and Konev reciprocates.

Zhukov is said to consider Konev a poor military leader. One reli-able account says that during the most intense phase of the final offensives against Germany in World War II, Zhukov was so fear-ful Konev would wreck the whole operation with his ineptitude he sent his own chief of staff, Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky, to take over as Konev's chief of staff and run the operation for him.

But it is clear from the assign-ment of Konev to preside at the Beria trial that Konev is trusted by Khrushchev and Bulganin. Al-most certainly Konev has been in-volved in some of the intrigues in top Soviet circles before Stalin's death and since.

Spotlight On Our Streets...

Along with May flowers street improvement programs are blossoming in many towns throughout the State of Missouri. Sedalia's interest in this activity gained new impetus last year when the city administration took cognizance of a condition here that has been fast deteriorating. Setting up an improvement program is one thing; getting it done is another especially when public interest is at low ebb.

Decidedly a selling job is necessary if the public is going to respond and support a planned street improvement program. City council representing the citizens is definitely interested because the members know that continued neglect of Sedalia's streets every year only adds to the increased costs of a project that ultimately must be done. Furthermore property values depreciate in a town that becomes notable for unimproved streets. Such an unattractive condition repels newcomers and slows growth. Unimproved streets, like poor housekeepers, dull the minds of the occupants and make them unsocial.

Street improvement programs are moving with alacrity this spring season in such communities as Columbia, Jefferson City and Cape Girardeau. The latter third class city soon will embark on the second largest street paving program in its history and before the end of the construction season can expect street and sewer improvements totaling a whopping $360,264.84. All improvement work will be paid by affected property owners and none to be done by bond financing. The street total alone is $152,727.92 based on actual bids in two instances and estimates on others—$132,727.92 for new construction and $20,000 for seal coating of existing asphalt surfaces.

The dollar figure for street paving in Cape Girardeau for the current year is the second largest since first streets were laid in 1910. The greatest amount previously spent was 20 years ago $153,810.12. A total of 22 blocks of streets are listed for new hard surfaces this year.

Sedalia's street and alley committee is pressing hard to get something done here, too, and deserves encouragement. Members spent considerable time in Jefferson City and Columbia familiarizing themselves with the mechanics of the street improvement programs in those two cities. They learned taxpayers there were favoring and cooperating fully in a campaign to build more permanent type streets. Also the practice of seal-coating unimproved streets has been discontinued because by experience it was determined seal-coating of unimproved streets not only did not provide the city with a street that could be classed as permanent, but the cost of maintenance was triple and a waste of money.

As of today Sedalia streets are classified—32 miles of high type (but needing attention in some instances); 30 miles of intermediate; and 62 miles of low type streets.

Council's problem here is stimulation of public interest in Sedalia streets and ways and means to get a program of improvement rolling. It is heartening to know that council's interest is not merely one of recognition of the problem, but that members individually and collectively are doing something about it by research and planning.

What Columbia, Jefferson City and Cape Girardeau can do—Sedalia can do also.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round—Gov. Harriman Slow Starter, Good Learner

By Drew Pearson

ALBANY, N.Y.—Thomas E. Dewey had been governor of New York for so long that some people wondered whether Albany would ever be quite the same without him.

Since January, however, another man—rather the opposite of Dewey—has been sitting in the governor's mansion, and the state, strangely enough, seems to be rocking along pretty well—a little differently and possibly a little better.

The man replacing Dewey is Averell Harriman, who as a multimillionaire head of the Union Pacific railroad and other big corporations came to Washington in the early days of the new deal to help put the nation's economy back on the tracks.

At that time, despite his millions, he was shy, diffident, green, and a hard-working new deal Democrat.

Today, as governor of New York, Harriman is still shy, still retiring, still fumbles a bit during a speech, and still is a hard-working new deal Democrat.

But he is no longer green. He is confident, knows what he wants, and is going after it. Furthermore, he has courage. He has the courage to fight for his principles and the courage to stand by his old friends, even though some of them get smeared and belittled in the rough-and-tumble of the political arena.

Slow-Starting Harriman

Harriman is what race-track parlance would call a slow starter. Those who watched him in the fumbling days of NRA and the Blue Eagle when he was assistant to General "Iron Pants" Hugh Johnson never would have figured he would make a good chief executive of the most powerful and difficult state in the union. I know I didn't. I used to be quite critical back in those days.

But Harriman is one who has the ability to learn. His sincerity, his perseverance, coupled with his devotion to the idea of dedicating himself to government has pushed him through such experience-molding jobs as Ambassador to England, Ambassador to Russia, Secretary of Commerce, European coordinator for the Marshall Plan, U.S. representative for NATO, and Mutual Security Director.

So, whereas Tom Dewey came to the governorship of New York in his early forties with no experience other than that of a prosecuting attorney, Harriman has become governor at the age of 63 after a more variegated experience than almost any man in America.

Averell on Russia

Sitting with him in the rambling 19th century mansion which New York built for its governors, I asked his views not only on New York State but, more important, on the nation's foreign affairs which he once helped manage.

Guest Editorial—

WINDSOR (Mo.) REVIEW.—A memorialization committee composed of officers at the Air Force Base at Knob Noster have recommended the name of Lt. George A. Whiteman (deceased) of Sedalia as the permanent name for the base, north of Windsor. Whiteman's name was selected from a list of names proposed by surrounding communities.

Whiteman is believed to be the first Air Force casualty in World War II. He was killed at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941 as he rushed to get his plane into the air to drive off the attacking Japs.

Perusal of the records of the various candidates proposed for the naming of the field by disinterested parties would lend support to the selection of Whiteman's name. Of the group of names submitted by communities in this area, Whiteman's name appears to be the most deserving for the honor.

Clinton and Warrensburg apparently want to continue plugging for their favorite sons. It is unfortunate these communities do not accept the recommendation of the committee. Failure to approve the Whiteman AFB designation could mean the field will continue to be known as the Sedalia Air Force Base. We have never thought that to be a proper name for the field.

It is to be hoped the civic groups in both Clinton and Warrensburg will join in approving the deserved honor for Lt. Whiteman thereby giving an honored and worthy name to the base.

As Sedalia Sees It—Brannan Says the US Needs More Dairying, Not Less

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capitol
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — United States needs more dairy production and not less, according to ex-Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan.

In an exclusive interview, Brannan said the country was not suffering from a dairy surplus but from "a scarcity of imagination." If the children of the country all got just one more quart of milk a week, Brannan said, the "so-called surplus" would be consumed three times over.

The Eisenhower Administration, he said, should direct its energies towards increasing the efficiency of food distribution. Food, according to Brannan, is an instrument of peace, and there is no moral justification for curtailing production so long as there are hungry people.

As Brannan sees it, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's attempt to reduce the production of dairy products contradicts the "so-called" theory on which the Administration farm program is based. Administration spokesmen have several times suggested the solution to the farm problem is to increase production of meat and dairy products while cutting back on production of grains.

Under this theory, Brannan said, it makes no sense to discourage increased dairy production. "But as usual there's no relationship between what they say (the Eisenhower Administration) and what they do," Brannan charged.

An assault on the distribution problem is absolutely essential, according to Brannan. He is convinced there will be a "surplus" problem so long as the problem is unsolved. And he is equally convinced that lower parity payments to farmers will only make the surplus problem worse.

Right now, according to Brannan, there are more milk cows on the farms of the nation than there were a year ago. Declining farm prices always lead to increased production, Brannan said. So it was natural to expect that the cutback in the dairy support level would result in increased milk production. The former Secretary recalled that during 1931-32, when wheat

COLE stepped back. The flicking slide of his right hand caught them all off guard. The big pistol glinted dully in the dying light. "Jesse, get out. Get out before I kill you."

Jesse's guns were holstered at his sides. He still had his rifle in his hands from the scouting of the farm. He made no move for the pistols, did not lift the carbine.

"Turn around," said Cole, "and walk out."

Jesse looked at Frank. "I'm coming," said Frank, and stood up.

"Anybody else?"

It was Cole's turn now, his eyes never leaving Jesse. Nobody answered, nobody moved.

"Once you're through that door," he said, "don't never let me see you again."

It was the last Cole Younger ever saw of Jesse James.

"I ought to have killed him. I ought to have killed him a long, long time ago—"

A hundred yards from the farmhouse, the brush closed behind Frank and Jesse. As it did, the latter whirled on his older brother, eyes blinking furiously.

"You nunny, you near fixed it for sure!"

"Fixed what? What are you talking about?" Frank stammered his genuine bewilderment.

"The grays, you idiot. You told them about the grays!"

"What if I did, Jesse? What are you getting at?" Frank's puzzlement held for another brief moment. Even as it did, he had his answer in the cold spread of Jesse's grin.

"There's two horses and there's you and me. It's why I come back from the barn at all—to tell you that we were going out, just the two of us. Cole only made it easy, that's all."

Frank nodded. There was no more room for words. Nothing more to be said. Jesse had said it all. The latter, not even waiting for his brother's nod, had already turned and started through the brush again. Frank followed him. Jesse always had a plan. You could take it or leave it.

THE hue and cry after the Northfield fugitives, which had almost died down following the discovery of their tied horses at German Lake, burst into full clamor again with the news of the theft of the two gray horses near Mankato and the subsequent, successful dash of those two grays and their riders through a picket-line post on the Crystal Lake Road west of the latter town.

The four outlaws remaining in the abandoned Mankato farmhouse left that refuge some time during the morning of Thursday, Sept. 14, within hours after Jesse and Frank had fled it.

Early the following Thursday morning, Sept. 21, they were sighted crossing the dairy pasture of the Suborn farm, near Madelia, by the farmer-owner's 17-year-old son, Oscar.

Madelia is a bare 25 miles southeast of Mankato.

Twenty-five miles in seven days and nights! Averaging but a little better than three miles in each 24 hours, and this over a region again swarming with the hornet's nest of official posess and rural pickets stirred up by Jesse's desertion. Yet they were not once seen until that fatal morning outside Madelia!

Then, following Oscar Suborn's reported sighting of the fugitives, posses from Madelia and nearby St. James surrounded the farm.

Four hours after the first alarm, 200 men were converging on Hanska Slough, the latest reported sighting of the fleeing outlaws.

Hanska Slough was in reality a backed-up side channel of the Watonwan River. Below the slough the channel spread out in a shallow, breast-deep swamp pond called Hanska Lake. Below the pond, the channel proper of the Watonwan resumed.

First cry of fox was raised by the posse of Madelia's Sheriff Glispin. Prying along the west shore of Lake Hanska, he suddenly saw the fugitives struggling along through the mudflats about 20 yards out from his own, the west, bank of the lake. He waved his men to take cover in the reeds, cautiously studied the four outlaws.

ALL of them were unkempt and filthy, with heavy, rain-wet beards. Their clothes were shredded and ripped and the sheriff at once noted the absence of the famous linen dusters. The largest of the bandits, apparently their leader, was walking in front of the others, leaning heavily on a crutch-like stick. The two following the first man were nearly as large as he. One of them appeared badly wounded, for the other was supporting him bodily. Glispin now rose up out of the reeds and shouted the order to halt. He might as well have ordered the rain to cease falling. The bandits, waved on by the big man in the lead, ran for the shelter of a low mudbank. They got safely behind it, and the silence which ensued was more unnerving than any gunfire. Sheriff Glispin took the opportunity to re-evaluate his position.

His posse was small, only five men. The mudflats were naked, offering no cover for an approach toward the waiting outlaws. The time for the kill, the Madelia officer at once decided, was not yet. His low orders to his men were as quick as they were wise: "Pull back, boys. We'd better wait for some of the others to come up."

In his terse, later explanation of the retreat, Glispin only remarked: "They were all mighty desperate-looking men, though the fourth one wasn't near as big as the others." The Madelia sheriff might well have added that it was a chore beyond the capacities of most men to be as big as a Younger. (To Be Continued)

Your Child's Health—There Are Several Causes And Varieties of Anemia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A correspondent writes that she is frequently troubled with low hemoglobin and that she would welcome a discussion of what this means. No doubt many others have a similar difficulty so that some understanding of anemia should be of wide interest.

What is anemia? The most important thing about it is that it is not a single disease and there are several possible causes and several varieties. In any form of anemia, however, there are a lessened number of red blood cells or hemoglobin (which is the coloring matter of the blood), or both. It is not sufficient to measure the hemoglobin alone or the red cells alone but both must be studied and frequently other tests undertaken as well.

Generally speaking there are about four and one-half or five million red blood cells in each cubic mm. of blood, (this is an extremely small amount since there are more than 16,000 cubic mm. in a cubic inch). The red blood cells contain oxygen and hemoglobin, both of which are necessary to maintain health and life.

One kind of anemia is known as primary or pernicious anemia. The cause of this condition is complicated but now it can be successfully treated in almost all cases.

With the exception of pernicious anemia, the problem boils down to finding out what has caused the reduction in red blood cells or hemoglobin. One of the most simple and yet frequent causes is bleeding from somewhere in the body. If a person loses more blood than the system can replace, anemia develops. If the bleeding is sudden such as from a cut, the difficulty can be remedied promptly by stopping the hemorrhage and giving a blood transfusion.

If hemorrhage is slow, it is necessary to find where the bleeding comes from and to stop it if possible. When this so-called secondary anemia is severe it may be necessary to give transfusions.

Another kind of anemia is fairly frequent in women between 30 and 50 years of age. The cause of this anemia is a deficiency of iron probably resulting from defective diet and poor absorption due to disturbances of the stomach and intestines. This causes a feeling of weakness, shortness of breath, nervous disturbances, dry hair, sore tongue and paleness. Fortunately, once it has been identified, it can be successfully treated by giving iron preparations.

Anemia may result from the failure of the organs which make the blood to manufacture adequate quantities. Here the difficulty lies principally in the bone marrow and is much like the anemia which comes from certain poisons. These are only a few of the many forms of anemia.

Lowered levels of red blood cells or hemoglobin means something seriously wrong. A person with severe anemia feels poorly and lacks in energy. The cause should be tracked down and appropriate treatment employed as rapidly as possible.

Young Violinist Plays May 22 At Concordia

Miss Sabine Anne Godfredson, outstanding 22-year-old violinist of Minneapolis, will make a concert appearance in the gym-auditorium of St. Paul's College, Concordia, on Sunday, May 22, at 8 p.m.

Miss Godfredson, playing on her valuable 200-year-old violin, has long been a favorite on the concert stage. Her youth and her outstanding talent have amazed the critics since she played her first concert selections on a half size violin at the age of eight years. Winner of many talent contests, frequent guest star of radio and television, and gracious concert artist, Miss Godfredson, one of the youngest professional violinists in the country, is also acclaimed as one of the most promising.

Comments from competent critics include the following: "Sparkling personality and amazing talent with the violin has rated her as one of the truly great." "She has a fine rhythmic sense which integrates figure and ornament into the thematic line and bows difficult passages with authority. She undoubtedly is one of our promising young artists."

This is the first program of this type which is sponsored by the St. Paul's College Guild. The program is open to the general public.

The Graduate's New Life

Look for the rainbow in the sky
And not the pot of gold.
Then you'll have treasures piled up high
When years have made you old.
Look for the simple things and find
The glories God has made;
Here you will have the peace of mind
And never be afraid.
Seek work you like—but don't excel
For glory nor for pay;
Just do that job ahead that's yours
According to God's way.
Buy only things you can afford.
Not what your neighbor buys;
Don't squander and yet never hoard
But spend your money wise.
Don't do the things that others do
Because you think it smart.
For what you are depends on you,
Be guided by your heart
And make that future home of yours
A happy place to live.
Let it be one that all adore
With what life has to give.
Build it on love and high ideals,
Fill it with laughter, songs;
Have it a place the family feels
Each one of them belongs.
Make it a place that's warm and bright
That's filled with joyful living.
A place of comfort and delight,
With giving and forgiving.
With graduation comes the day
Life stretches far ahead;
It's up to you to find the way
Your future steps must tread.
Here at this place you choose a road,
Go slowly down the path,
With simple things that are life's code—
And don't forget to laugh.

Chiefs Open Season Against Columbia BJ Here Tonight

Ban Johnson Officials Foresee '55 Season As Liveliest Pennant Race Since Circuit Was Organized

Tonight at 8 o'clock with weather conditions permitting, the Sedalia Chiefs of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League will open the 1955 season. The first home opponents will be the Columbia B.J.'s. Anticipation of the league officials is this will be the liveliest pennant race since the circuit was organized several years ago.

The game will be played on the Liberty Park diamond.

Five of the eight clubs are figured in the championship picture for this season, with every manager in the amateur circuit believing his team will be in the race and knowing his club will show improvement over previous years.

The 1954 champion, Mexico, is back with a well rounded out team, the Chiefs, Jefferson City, Brookfield and Moberly are tabbed as the five contenders. Yet on the other side of the picture is Marshall, and Boonville are expected to be rough for this season.

Columbia is back in the harness after a two-year lapse. Early reports on Columbia are to the effect they should come along much faster than was first expected.

Today's opening games in the league are between Brookfield at Boonville; Marshall traveling to Jefferson City; the champion Mexico team moving into Moberly; and of course Columbia at Sedalia. This week three more league games are scheduled when Brookfield goes to Marshall on Wednesday; Sedalia will be in Mexico on Thursday; with Moberly down at Columbia on Friday.

W. L. "Red" Hayden, the team manager, has problems on his hands as to the starting lineup. Hayden has announced he will probably start with the following lineup: Bobby Case, shortstop; Larry Mines, catcher; "Buck" Bennett, second base; Jim Fall, centerfield; Benny Neil, rightfield; Don Delph, first base; Elroy Burton, leftfield; Bob Abney, third base. Hayden has elected to start with Bill Arnold on the mound.

Other members of the squad are Merlyn McCown, Johnny Higgins, Don Barbour, "Skip" Schulz, Ken Buhlig, Clyde Kubli, and Bob Marshall of Warrensburg, an all-star high school athlete.

Of course, Columbia is claiming at the present time their prospects are only "fair" but a lot of Sedalians recall several years ago when they came up with a fence rattling ball club. But Tony Antini, the Columbia manager, declares at the present time they are only "fair." On the other hand his four boys around which the team is being built are Jerry Whitesides, a 345 hitter, infielders Frank Fenton and Dale Nichols, and pitcher Kenny Roberts, formerly with the Boonville Lions of '54.

The Columbia Athletics are banking heavily on the four former Lions from Boonville. Incidentally the Boonville team has been changed to the Cadillacs.

Manager Hayden announced Saturday the uniforms are to be issued at the park at 9 a.m. Sunday.

K.C. Scotty's Beat Columbia Semons In Softball 4 to 3

The Kansas City Scotty's a girl's softball team, which has selected Sedalia as their home ball town, defeated the Columbia Semons Furniture on the Center Park diamond 4-3 Saturday night. It was an extra inning ball game of nine innings.

The score at the end of the seventh inning was tied up three and three and it was in the bottom of the ninth when a single followed by a triple scored the winning run.

The Scotty's were a part of a Kansas City league until the league disbanded because of the Kansas City Athletics resulted in attendance dropping so low the league voted to quit. The group then selected Sedalia as their home town.

Winger Takes Over Hot Springs Open Golf Lead

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 14 (AP)—Bo Winger, poker-faced pro from Oklahoma City, put together another string of precision golf shots today as he shot a 68, four-under-par, for a three-stroke lead in the $15,000 Hot Springs Open.

Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C. also fired a 68 and remained three strokes back at 205.

Despite his fine round, Winger was displeased with his putting.

"I was almost always in a good position to score," Winger said, "I just couldn't get the putts."

Doug Ford of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., who was tied with Winger at the start of today's round after both had shot two 67s, could manage only a 73 and was tied with two others for the third spot at 207.

Cary Middlecoff beat par by one stroke with his 71, which left him deadlocked with Ford and Ted Kroll of Utica, N.Y., who also had a 71.

Sports Scraps

(By D. Kelly Scruton)
BASEBALL season will officially open today for Sedalia hardball teams when the Sedalia Chiefs cross bats with the Columbia Athletics on the Liberty Park diamond. It is a scheduled night game to get underway at 8 p. m.—Weather conditions permitting of course.

A real "kick-off" is being given the Chiefs tonight by the Federated Shop Craft of the Missouri Pacific. The Crafts have "bought" tonight's game and it is designated as the Federated Shop Crafts Night at Liberty Park. It is a boast which can be and is appreciated by the Sedalia Ban Johnson organization.

The Crafts purchased tickets which are being distributed among the Craft members if they choose to attend the game. The organization in buying these tickets have contributed a considerable sum of money to the Ban Johnson Association as a helping hand in the interest of baseball.

It is expected the grandstand will have a good attendance of Crafts members to see the opening ceremonies and the game.
But the Ban Johnson officials don't want the public to feel they can't come. There will be plenty of room for Sedalia fans to attend, and their presence as one official explained it, "is badly needed, not only for the opening game but all games this season."

Special nights are hoped for by the Association. Several Sedalia business firms have indicated in taking over a night to help bolster the Chiefs finances for the season to keep baseball going in an amateur way if not professionally.

BILLY ARNOLD is getting an early start this season on the mound. Tonight he is scheduled to go against Columbia, Manager "Red" Hayden making his pitching choice Saturday. Arnold had an outstanding record for 1954 when he won five and lost none in Ban Johnson play and then kept the record clean by winning two games in the Semi-Pro Missouri tournament.

Local fans know Arnold's talent as a pitcher and can be assured there will be a battle on the mound with him there. A good game is always in prospect when Billy is turned loose to hurl the ball.

Arnold has indicated he hopes to maintain his fine record this season. He started off backing his intentions last week when he had a shutout performance in a practice game with one of the Sedalia Air Force Squadron teams 1-0. The Chiefs won this encounter by beating Boyd Hamm, the leading strikeout pitcher for the Air Base team in the Missouri State Semi-Pro tournament held last July.

Using Arnold in the first

The Missouri Futurity is the brainchild of Sweeney's former partner, the late Gaylord White who made many friends in Sedalia in his numerous visits to this city with reference to auto racing.

Sweeney, who has started visiting Sedalia since White's death, is a likeable fellow and his friendships are growing as fast as he makes new acquaintances.

Certainly the type of automobile racing has been on a steady incline as far as material in racing cars and drivers are concerned. The Sweeney-White combination began building, and under the leadership of Al it is tops in the nation.

Riding School Gives Benefit Horse Show

"The Horse America Made," an unusual horse show with a story, will be presented on Sunday, May 22, at 2 p. m. at Columbia Riding School, located on the farm of Senator George A. Spencer, two miles north of Columbia on Highway 63.

These theme of the horse show pageant is the development of the American Saddle Horse, beginning with the first horses imported from England by the colonists. Riders colorfully costumed in clothes typical of each period will show horses which have been chosen to represent the various types. A carefully prepared running commentary will accompany the showing of the horses, and appropriate music with the "feel" of the period will be played.

The show is to be professionally filmed in its entirety, and short version of the film will be televised.

Beginning with a Colonial family on their all-purpose horses, the Pageant will depict the Narragansett and Canadian pacers, the first horses with easy-riding gaits, the Kentucky racking horses, the Morgan horse, the Civil War cavalry horse, the Arabian, the Thoroughbred, the Standardbred, the Denmark, the Chief, and the Denmark-Chief strains.

Many of Missouri's prominent horsemen and women are cooperating by bringing top horses of the various types for this benefit performance. Among them are Scott Higgins, R. S. Palmer, T. T. Palmer, R. P. Glenn, Walter Staley, Mrs. Claude Drew, Stephens College, Tom Lane, T. B. Smith, and others.

In addition to the story of the development of the American Saddle Horse, there will be equitation classes of young and older students, as well as exhibition classes of jumpers, trotters, three-gaited, five-gaited and walking horses.

Persons who would like to bring and show their three-gaited or five-gaited horses in this non-competitive show are invited to write to Columbia Riding School or call Columbia 9779 during the day or Columbia 8198 in the evening.

Harrison Leads West Virginia Golf

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 14 (AP)—Dutch Harrison, 45-year-old pro golfer out of St. Louis, Mo., was unruffled by miserably cold rain today and shot his third straight subpar round for a total 199 to take a two-stroke lead in the White Sulphur Springs Open.

Harrison's three-under par 67 was matched by Sam Sneed, the host pro, who pulled into second place with a total 201 going into tomorrow's final 18 holes.

Sneed was in good position to pull even with Harrison as he was four under par going into the last three holes. But he couldn't break par on the 15th or 17th and on the last hole he took a bogey five.

Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh also blew an opportunity to keep in step with Harrison. The big switch hitter, who pokes the ball from the right until he reaches the green where he becomes a southpaw, also finished with a bogey right behind Sneed to post a 69 and a 54-hole total of 202.

It dropped him from the runner-up spot to a tie for third with Johnny Revolta of Skokie, Ill., Jack Burke Jr., and Jimmy Demaret of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., Henry Picard of Cleveland and Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia.

Santee Misses
4-Minute Mile
Again Saturday

FRESNO, Calif., May 14 (AP)—Wes Santee missed again today in his bid for a 4-minute mile in the feature event of the 29th annual West Coast Relays. He ran the distance in 4 minutes 6½ seconds.

The Kansas cowboy won the event by 30 yards over Len Simpson of the San Francisco Olympic Club after his ex-teammate, Art Dalzell, dropped out on the third lap after setting the early pace.

The try for the record was handicapped by a 14-mile-an-hour north-west wind which raked Ratchliffe Stadium.

Santee, as usual in his recent runs, hung back behind Dalzell the first two laps. Gene Jones of the Santa Clara Youth Center passed Santee on the north turn of the first lap and the three men went the second quarter under a blanket until Jones fell out at the start of the third lap.

Dalzell dropped out on the back stretch of the third lap and Simpson took the lead briefly until Santee assumed command for the final quarter.

Ban Johnson Opens Today With 5 Games

The Central Missouri Ban Johnson League opens officially today with games scheduled in Sedalia, Booneville, Jefferson City, and Moberly — providing weather conditions permit. It is expected to be the hottest pennant race in the history of the league according to an early survey of the teams.

The following report comes from the Ban Johnson Statistician Sam Isle of Moberly.

In Sedalia Manager W. L. "Red" Hayden flatly predicts the Chiefs will win the pennant. Standouts on his club are Jim Fall the returning batting king of 1954 who hit .425 to lead the circuit; Bobby Case with his .350; Buck Bennett with a .330, the latter who led the loop in RBIs; Bill Arnold with his slab record of 5-0 for last year.

Over in Columbia Manager Tony Antimi says his club will only be "fair". His nucleus are four former Booneville players, Jerry Whitesides a .345 hitter and infielders Frank Fenton, Dale Nichols with pitcher Kenny Roberts.

Manager H. E. Hassler of Mexico bemoans the loss of two of the league's brightest stars, but rival pilots look for the Ramblers to be in the thick of the pennant fight. Hassler seeks replacements for pitcher Tom McNamara, now a freshman at the University of Missouri, and Bill Rittman, who signed with the Boston Red Sox.

McNamara, a stylish lefthander, posted a 12-2 record in pitching the Ramblers to the 1954 flag and led the league with 171 strikeouts in 122 1/3 innings. He anticipates a semi-pro assignment in Iowa this summer.

On the brighter side, Hassler's club will have much of its old punch. The Mexico roster includes third baseman Bob Moser, runner-up in the league batting derby with a .413 average, and outfielder Don Workes, who slugged at a .326 clip, claimed the home run crown and ranked well up among the RBI leaders.

Manager Jim Hampton's Moberly form club is dotted with "ifs". Much depends upon the availability of Foster Sadler and Doug Gulick, the Miners' one-two mound punch last summer. Sadler, a Central College student, is job hunting, while Gulick, a member of the M.U. freshman squad, may be pitching in Iowa with Mexico's McNamara. Between them Gulick and Sadler won 17 games and lost five in '54.

The Miners have distance punch in first baseman Ron Wilson, third baseman Gene Dennis and outfielder Joe Benny. Wilson led Ban Johnson batsmen in total hits and ranked second in RBIs. Moberly boasts one of the finest receivers in the league in Bill Reid who at the age of 18 is starting his fifth season with the Miners. Dennis and Reid are being primed for possible mound duty.

Three of the most outstanding players in the league lend encouragement to Manager Tom Ford in his initial season with the Booneville Cadillacs. Ford is expecting great things of shortstop Bill Cleary, outfielder Harold Gilliam and pitcher Bill Moore. Moore was hampered by arm trouble late last season.

Ford looks for his Cadillacs to finish in the second division in the first half race, then move up a notch or two in the second half. Four Legion graduates — Darrell Meyer, Jim Cleary, Bob Bechtold and Bunney Brummell — should help the club after acquiring game experience. The Booneville manager is particularly high on Bechtold, a catcher, and Brummell, a pitcher.

The dark horse of the league may be Jefferson City, which lost none of its 1954 talent. Herb Versluis is a first-rate hurler. In addition, Manager Byron Humphreys, veteran of 10 years in professional baseball, has back first baseman Glen Vanderlicht, catcher Jim Kemmer, shortstop Leroy Howser, third baseman Jack Gabler and pitcher Jim Cassmeyer. Vanderlicht, Kemmer and Gabler are power hitters. Outfielder Norman Herd is the best-looking rookie on the Bears' roster.

The Marshall Blue Jays have a new manager, Lonnie Nichols, a new name and much brighter prospects after finishing last in 1954. Key men are first sacker Cliff Morris, pitcher Bob Iglehart and outfielder Jim Gilmore. Help is expected from newcomers Larry Bennett, a catcher, and Junior Gibson, an outfielder. Four Legion products may make the grade. They are pitcher Charles Duren and infielders Larry Langan, Bob Abney and Charles Nichols.

Brookfield may have a catching problem, but the Bombers shape up well in other departments. Jim Ritter, No. 1 receiver last year, is expected to move from Brookfield when the school term ends. Manager Lou Dewey, preparing for his freshman season in the league, lists Jerry Cleveland, Bob Royer and Doug Sullivan, a lefthander, as top hands in the pitching corps. Leading hitters are outfielders Bill Douglas and Bill Wright, both of whom waved potent war clubs last year.

America Fields Youngster Golf Team—

US Walker Cup Contenders Meet British Next Weekend

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 14—P.—The youngest and greenest amateur golf team to represent the United States in many years of Walker Cup competition will oppose an experienced and determined British side on the historic old course here next Friday and Saturday.

And Britons, always doubtful about "unknowns" in golf, are hopeful their veterans will come up with the second British victory in 15 international encounters since 1921.

The Walker Cup, properly called the United States Golf Assn. International Challenge Trophy, was put into competition after the Americans had won an informal match from British amateurs in 1921. Since then the U. S. has taken the trophy 13 times and Britain once.

Each series, played biennially, consists of four foursomes on the first day and eight singles matches on the second. Each victory counts one point, but ties aren't played out.

A hopeful note for the British this year comes from the fact Britain's one victory came at St. Andrews in 1938 and other matches played on the old course were very close.

The rugged, windswept course by the North Sea is one that requires a lot of knowing. It's familiar to the Britons, but only one of the nine Americans ever has played it and only two have played in Britain.

All but four of the Americans are new to Walker Cup competition this year while six of the 10 British are veterans of as many as five international meetings, going back as far as 1936. In age, the Americans range from 21 to 34, with an average of about 29. Only one of 10 British players, 25-year-old Ian Caldwell, is below that average while the oldest, Cecil Ewing, will be 45 in June. Their average is just over 35.

British golf followers are extremely curious about the young American team. Except for Capt. Bill Capbell and Harvie Ward, the players aren't well known on this side. Two others, Don Cherry and Jim Jackson were members of the 1953 U. S. team which beat Britain 9-3 at Marion, Mass. Jackson is well-remembered as the players who found 16 clubs in his bag during the foursomes and would have been disqualified if the British hadn't insisted on a lesser penalty.

Campbell, age 32, also was runner-up to Australia's Doug Bachli in last year's amateur. There's a possibility Campbell may not play in the international matches because of his responsibility as team captain. His hands were badly burned in an accident last December, but he says they don't hamper his play now.

Ward, British amateur champion in 1952 and runner-up in 1953, is another familiar figure to British golf followers. The 29-year-old North Carolinian beat Ireland's Joe Carr in the 1953 Walker Cup singles to square a defeat in the championship final.

See Better Fishing At Carpenter's Resort

Down at Carpenter's Resort, south of Stover, fishing has become better than it has in the past several years according to Mrs. Agnes Carpenter who is now operating the resort since the death of her husband.

Mrs. Carpenter reported Guy Bailey and Mrs. Guy Bailey, 514 Sunbelt Drive, recently caught a 43 pound whitecatfish. Bailey, superintendent of the Missouri Pacific Shops, and Mrs. Bailey made the catch while boating.

The Carpenters have had the resort for 22 years. May 11th, which is located on the Lake of the Ozarks on the mouth of Big Buffalo. The resort is strictly private as to ownership of cabins, but visitors are welcome to fish. Mrs. Carpenter announced.

Texas Aggies On Two-Year Probation

HOUSTON, Tex., May 14—P.—The Southwest Conference today placed Texas A & M on probation for a two-year period for violations of recruiting policies.

The probation, subject to review next spring, prevents Texas A & M from participating in any post-season athletic contest. The school will be eligible, however, to participate in all conference events and qualify for conference championships.

Faculty representatives also cancelled all letters of intent for prospective athletes filed with the conference office by Texas A & M since April 15.

While the probation action is effective today, the ban against post-season contests is not effective until Sept. 15. This leaves the way open for the Aggie spring sports teams now ending their 1955 season to participate in the NCAA national meets.

The conference also ruled that any prospective athlete whose letter was cancelled by today's action is free to enroll at Texas A & M or any other conference school.

FAMOUS RODEO CLOWN—Slim Pickens and his horse Dear John, who will appear at the J Bar H Rodeo in Camdenton, July 5 through July 10.

Famous Clown And Bullfighter To Be In Rodeo

Slim Pickens, of Hollywood, Calif., Western movie star and famous rodeo clown and bullfighter, will be making his first appearance at the J Bar H Rodeo in Camdenton when the big Missouri event gets underway July 5 and continues through July 10.

Born on a ranch in California, Pickens was known as Louis Lindley. He started his rodeo career at the age of 13 and it was necessary for him to use an assumed name because his father objected to this dangerous sport. One day he took the name "Slim Pickens" and it stuck for good.

He started his remarkable career as rodeo clown when the regular clown failed to appear for a California event. Slim went over with a bang and he is now one of the most famous clowns and bullfighters in the nation.

Pickens got his start in movies when a Warner Brothers director saw him doing his stuff at the 1950 Saugus Rodeo in California. Now he's widely known as the comedy foil for Western star Rex Allen.

In the past three years, Pickens has appeared in over 30 movies but each summer gets back to rodeo — "his first love." Pickens jumped at the chance to "work" the famous Camdenton, Missouri, rodeo and it's almost a sure bet that he will make a tremendous hit with J Bar H fans starting this July 5th.

Two Softball Games On Tab For Tonight

The Sedalia Industrial Athletic Association Softball League games were cancelled last week because of rain, heavy dew and wet grounds, and hopes to be resumed tonight. Weather permitting, two games will be played tonight on the Housel Park softball diamond.

The game between the National Engineers and De Molay will be started at 7 p. m. to be followed by the Hudson Hornets and Hamm's Beer at 9 p. m.

All games which were rained out the past week are to be made up in postponed games to be played on Friday nights and on Sunday until all games have been made up.

With the exception of Saturday nights, every night is softball night at Housel Park.

No admission is charged for the games, but free-will offerings are taken up to defray the expenses of the lights, balls, etc. There is no charge for parking of cars around the field and fans sitting in their cars can, like those in the stands, contribute when the hat is passed.

Arrangements have been completed to have the concession stand open during the games and is operated by the Association. Funds from the concessions are used to help defray some of the expense of keeping the diamond in condition and necessary repairs about the park.

The racing silks of J. C. Pollard are the colors of Louisiana State University. They were chosen when Pollard raced in partnership with T. L. Harkins, a graduate of L.S.U.

Strikes Three Out of Four—

Cancer Is Among Greatest Riddles of Medical Science

Cancer, which will strike one in every four Americans at some time during their lives, is one of science's greatest riddles.

Responsible for one in every seven deaths, cancer is what medical scientists call a "phenomenon of growth."

Little is known about how it starts, though it probably begins in a single cell — and without warning. Cancer cells grow and spread until they kill the patient.

But this grim picture is changing because science is learning to control cancer in its early stages.

And hundreds of scientists in more than 130 institutions throughout the country are finding answers to more of cancer's secrets.

They've found that cancer cells are slightly different from normal cells. They're fooling some cancers, for a time at least, by feeding them "impersonator" chemicals that closely resemble vital compounds needed for growth.

So far, no growth-checking chemicals will do this job permanently. There usefulness is temporary but many scientists are optimistic that a chemical cure can be found.

That's only one approach. Other scientists are trying to fashion new radioactive substances to kill cancer cells. In some cases they have been successful in treating cancer of the thyroid. Radiiodine not only destroyed the original cancer but was attracted to distant colonies spread by the blood stream. This cancer tissue, similar to thyroid, has a natural attraction for iodine. The colonies, in many cases, were wiped out.

Research avenues to cancer control are increasing. Besides cell poisons and radioactive substances being sought, scientists are working on ways of training viruses to attack cancer cells selectively. They also are seeking to develop antibodies that might cure cancer.

Researchers are learning how hormones — secretions of the glands — affect cancer's start and progress. In some cases of breast and prostate cancer, removal by surgery of certain glands has slowed down and apparently halted the cancer growth.

The dramatic cancer research quest also is seeking to learn why cancer starts. Investigators are probing hundreds of compounds which can cause cancer. Others are examining cancer cells with new powerful microscopes to learn what happens when the disease begins. Fantastically intricate tests are being made in scores of institutions to find out how the cell mechanism changes or breaks down.

Meanwhile, thousands of patients are being cured of cancer every year. An estimated 75,000 were saved last year. These were, for the most part, early cases in which the cancers could be removed before they spread. Twice this number can be saved annually if their cancers are diagnosed and treated promptly.

They can be cured with surgery and radiation. Many early cancers that can be reached by the surgeon's scalpel can be removed with a good chance of cure. In the last decade surgeons have made rapid advances. What was rare and dangerous radical surgery twenty and even ten years ago, today is nearly commonplace. Removing an entire lung, a daring innovation in 1933, is not unusual now.

Sometimes, when cancer forces removal of the stomach, a new one can be built out of part of the large intestine and it functions

Police Say Victim of Riot Received Warning

SINGAPORE (AP) — Police said that American newsmen Gene Symonds, who died at the hands of a mob of strikers, had been warned by police against going into the troubled area.

Police Commissioner Nigel Morris said allegations that police radio cars stood by while Symonds, United Press manager for Southeast Asia, was beaten into unconsciousness "are not correct."

"We have the full story from the time Symonds left the American Club and drove in a taxi to his home to pick up his camera then into the riot area," he said.

Morris gave this version of Thursday's incident. Symonds' taxi was stopped at two police roadblocks and each time warned against going past. The first time he ordered the driver to drive on. The second time he told four constables manning the block "I have an important job to do."

Officials Think Disarmament Is Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials believe a limited disarmament agreement may eventually be negotiated with Russia even though world wide atomic controls seem a long way off.

Publication of proposals made by the Soviet Union and the Western Powers at a U.N. Disarmament Committee meeting in London showed today that the two sides are still far apart on the key issue of enforcements.

Informants said that even if agreement was reached on all other points, the issue of safeguards to prevent an aggressive nation from secretly preparing an atomic war is so vital there could be no overall agreement unless it also was resolved.

However, American officials and some European leaders are known to believe that it may be possible to work out plans with the Soviets to stabilize or perhaps cut back the size of forces deployed in the European area. If this limited approach did prove possible, informants say, it would have the effect of easing fears of war in Europe and reducing East West tension.

Eisenhower Is Proud Of Flagpole on Farm Given by N.Y. GOP

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Talk about a man being pleased—you should have seen President Eisenhower admire his new flag pole with the Stars and Stripes flying from it.

The pole, about 30 feet high, is on the spacious front lawn of the President's new country home here. The deep blue presidential flag flutters just below the national emblem.

late Friday the text of disarmament proposals which have been made by the Western Powers at the London meeting since February. Throughout the Western plans runs a strong insistence on the idea that the first step in any disarmament undertaking must be the creation of a "control organ."

Storm Profits
ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Dust storms in this area have been profitable for Ron George. While scraping the newly blown dust and sand off his yard last year, he found a five dollar bill. This year he found a ten dollar bill. Next year, he says, he hopes to find the lawn.

4-H Round-Up

By Jim Perry
Assistant County Agent

Rural Youth Committee Selects Delegates

The Farm Bureau Rural youth Committee selected the 4-H members to represent Pettis County at several state-wide events. The delegates for State Club Week on June 8-11 are: Luther Jordon (Tanglenook 4-H), Elaine Lowery (Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H), Martha Hammond (Tanglenook 4-H), Mary Alice Hutchison (Georgetown 4-H), Shirley Tegtmeyer (Oak Point 4-H), Virginia Walk (Hughesville Happy Helpers), Caroline Staley (Striped College 4-H), Patty Hoos (Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H), and Catherine Deebord (Hillview 4-H).

Luther Jordon, who is 4-H Council President, is an automatic delegate. He and Catherine Deebord were selected to have their registration fee paid by the Pettis County Farm Bureau. These members will be asked to report on the activities to the Farm Bureau Board.

Martha Hammond of Tanglenook 4-H was selected to attend Junior Leader's Camp, June 27 - July 1. Caroline Staley of Striped College was selected as 2nd alternate. Others submitting entries were Virginia Grimes (Beaman Arators 4-H), Linda Turner and Julia Ford (Maplewood 4-H) and Willa Ann Sawford (Smithton 4-H).

Pork Leaders Should Be Interested

Pork project leaders have a fine opportunity to get their project members in on a good type meeting. This meeting will be conducted by members of the Pettis County Extension Staff and Bill Pugh, Extension Livestock Specialist. The meeting will be held on the Frank Sells farm at 1:30 on May 20th. Frank's farm is located just south of the underpass on Highway 50.

Whether we like it or not, the trend is away from the lardy hog because the consumer is demanding leaner pork. Since the trend is toward leaner hogs, hog project members could well benefit from this meeting. Since the project leader is responsible for the production practices taught his members, I hope that they will be able to attend.

Judging Days Earlier

We are going to need the combined efforts of all to get everyone to realize that the Judging Teams will be selected earlier this year. Boys and girls interested in Home Furnishing, Home Grounds, Food Preservation, Food Preparation, Clothing, and Vegetable should be prepared to try out on June 25. Judging teams will be selected at this time rather than at the Achievement Days.

Ownerless Bridge

LYONS, Mich. (AP)—This village wants to repair a 74-year-old bridge, but can't find out who owns it. To determine ownership, Village President James Kistler started friendly lawsuits against the village, county and state.

School buses have been ordered to stop on one side of the weakened structure, let the children walk across the bridge and pick them up on the other side. The bridge was built in 1881, repaired in 1901 and again in 1930. But a search of records has failed to show who built the bridge and who's going to pay for repairs.

The first known written reference to coal was made by a Chinese who died 2,100 years ago.

Proper Waxing and Polishing Agents Keep Finishes Sparkle

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Colorful materials and protective finishes used for many new contemporary accessories spark questions from homemakers on the pampering necessary to keep them looking like new.

Lacquer protects the brilliance of brass, for example, from tarnish. But, a young bride asks, should she use lacquered brass or silver bowls for table service and wash them up with the rest of the dishes? And what, asks an older homemaker, do you do if the lacquer peels?

New furniture that stresses the smooth, clear color of plastic laminates brings up the question as to whether soap-and-water washing is all the rare that's necessary. Can the transparent, tinted finishes on mahogany be treated like any other modern finish?

Prodded into action, I've been talking with experts in different fields to get some of the answers. Here's what I found out:

Lacquered finishes on brass, copper or silver will protect the article from tarnish. Such finishes are most effective on pieces which are not subjected to repeated dunk-ings in dishwater.

If you have decorative candlesticks and bowls, or furniture with brass legs, keep them dusted and wiped with a damp cloth now and then. An occasional application of the wax-silicone type of furniture polish does help to reduce the wearing away of the coating, according to Betty Woods of the O'Ceard Home Service Institute.

If you use lacquered bowls or trays for food service, and wash them often, the coating may peel. I know from experience with a silver-plated tray of mine that a peeling finish is worse than tarnish.

The problem is to remove all

the lacquer. One expert suggested I try wood alcohol or lacquer thinner, warning me that these are inflammable agents and extreme caution should be observed. Take the article and the thinner and rags outdoors, away from any contact with fire, and dispose of rags used promptly.

Lacquers vary in composition, so home efforts to remove them may not be successful. In which case, take the article to a jeweler.

The clear, clean colors of plastic laminate surfaces will stay that way with simple washing, but an occasional waxing is also recommended. A protective polish tends to guard against surface scratches and to minimize those that do appear.

Transparent tinted finishes, which you see most often on mahogany furniture, add color without obscuring the grain of the wood. Often the effect is delicate, especially when the color is pink or blue. But the process used gives a finish that's durable and sturdy.

Colored pigments sprayed on in lacquer, and fillers wiped into the pores of the wood to emphasize the grain are well sealed under a clear lacquer finish, sometimes glossy and sometimes dull. Dust or clean with warm water and a soft cloth. Use wax sparingly; polish off as much as possible.

Your Wardrobe

by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

LOOK AS CRISP AS AN October day in July should be everyone's motto for summer. It can be easily done if you plan your wardrobe properly. Most all fabrics are crease resistant this season so their crispness can be maintained throughout the day. Many of the fabrics require no ironing. Bouffant petticoats of course give the crisp effect to your soft materials. Colors play an important part in your summer wardrobe. Be sure to include becoming pastels in afternoon and street dresses. Several dark cotton dresses are a must. Dark prints are very important this year. They are a must for trips, cloudy days and frequently after six dresses. After your wardrobe has been taken care of, the way you wear it is next. Don't wear heavy make-up, it makes you warm and looks warm. Keep your hair shining clean and wear simple hair-dos. Light nail polish is suggested too. Remember if you look cool you will feel cooler. Be sure to keep your cologne refrigerated — it's much more refreshing.

Your front door is your greeting card and behind your front door is your home. It has been said many times before, but it bears repeating, that an entrance is a preview of what is to be found inside. So always make certain it bears the unmistakable imprint of the friendly people living within. Perhaps a brass knocker on a freshly painted watermelon pink or Avocado green door will reflect your personality; or an unusual mail box; wrought iron railing or planter; will be the "something new" at your entrance to say "Come in!"

Scott Joplin Started Ragtime—May Honor Two Ex-Sedalians In St. Louis Cultural Center

Two former Sedalians may be honored in the naming of a proposed Cultural Center at St. Louis according to an article that appeared recently in the St. Louis American. The American editorial reported that the "Committee on the Cultural Center is considering various types of memorials that may enhance the project. The St. Louis American hereby wishes to offer this suggestion: that a memorial be dedicated to four men who were pioneers in the early popular American music. . . . The names would be "Turpin, Joplin, Starke and Handy."

Scott Joplin, lived in Sedalia about 1900 and attended the George R. Smith College. While here he wrote and published the "Maple Leaf Rag," that according to many authorities on early American music was the first "published rag." G. W. Starke, Sedalia music publisher, has been credited as the first publisher of ragtime in the country. Both Joplin and Starke moved to St. Louis shortly after the turn of the century and gained even more fame in the ragtime music field. Years later Joplin moved on to New York and was followed by Starke, as the center of American music moved eastward from its early life in Sedalia.

Starke and Joplin were two of the chief subjects of the book, "They All Played Ragtime," by Rudi Blesh and Harriet Janis, published with Alfred Knopf in 1950. The opening scene of the book was Main street in Sedalia in the late 1890s and entitled "The Sedalia Story."

Several years ago a movement was started in Sedalia to create a Joplin memorial by a group who reportedly had the support of many successful stars of the stage and the entertainment world. Sufficient interest was never aroused, however, and the final result was a plaque in memorial of Joplin awarded to Hubbard High School by the Sedalia Men's Choral Club in 1952.

Others who may be honored in the naming of the St. Louis center are Million Turpin, famed St. Louis pianist and composer, and W. C. Handy "Father of the Blues," and composer of such well known songs as, "St. Louis Blues," "Memphis Blues," and many others. Handy is the only living member of the quartette.

The American concluded: "The nature of such a memorial must be carefully determined so that it shall neither be cheap nor gaudy nor inappropriate. The type of lusty music these four men created is a permanent part of our American folklore."

Ballad Singer Ives Wishes For 10 Lives

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Man, there are so many things to do, I'd like to live 10 lives," said big Burl Ives, contentedly unrolling a battleship signal flag.

The red and white flag was as tall as Ives, the folk singer who became a dramatic star as "Big Daddy" in the Pulitzer prize play, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

Burl, who doesn't own even a rowboat at present, bought a complete set of battleship flags at a sale of government surplus supplies. Wrapping one of the flags around his 290-pound bulk, he said cheerfully:

"I've always wanted a set of ship signal flags, although I really don't need 'em battleship size. Now I got 40 of 'em. Do you think maybe I could get a seamstress to turn some of 'em into sport shirts?"

The huge old-fashioned apartment in which Burl and his wife, Helen, live with his 6-year-old son, Alexander, is crowded with souvenirs of his travels.

"Isn't this a wonderful thing to split a head over with?" inquired Burl, holding up a Maori war club from New Zealand. "And how do you like these parade drums I picked up for 12 bucks apiece? Gonna make 'em into lamps. Got 'em at another government surplus sale. You can't beat those surplus sales for bargains. Never can tell what you'll be able to pick up."

Burl walked over and patted on the head two drowsy looking wooden ship figureheads.

"This one is Vasco da Gama, and the other is Pocahontas," he said. "Seen a lot of salt water, these babies. Got 'em both in England during my last concert tour."

"I bring junk home from all over the world. Helen complains about it, but after it's here a while she gets so she likes it as much as I do."

Burl settled back comfortably in a big overstuffed couch. The phone rang.

"Let it ring," he said. "I don't like to talk on the phone."

The phone bell died into silence.

"I like sailing," Burl said. "If I can find the time, that is."

"That's the trouble with this world. Life is too short. You're lucky if you can get one thing done, let alone all the things you want to."

"I've got all kinds of hobbies," he went on. "I like to write books, and I've always wanted to own a dude ranch. I was going to buy me a Western ghost town some years back, but there turned out to be too many on the market. Couldn't make up my mind.

"I'd also like to own a goat cheese farm. I had 28 goats once in California. They call 'em eating goats there, and they use 'em to clear the land. They'll eat practically anything that grows."

"I got so interested in those goats I even wrote a novel about them. You know most animals can be disciplined through fear."

"But the buck goat is an exception. He'll fight you until he dies. You have to win him by affection."

"I could sit among those goats for hours doing nothing but watching them."

"But the Indian is the only man civilized enough to find happiness just sitting and watching goats eat. I'd like to get me some Indian herders and some goats and really go into the goat cheese business. I'd get me some electric milking equipment and put it on a milk and the goats from the jeep."

Burl is a happy fat man who says he has no fears, few worries, and keeps so placidly busy he rarely finds life ever boring.

"People are the only thing that can ever bore you if you keep your mind busy," he said.

Ives says he has only two major theatrical goals left now. He'd like to play Falstaff sometime, and he'd like to make a world tour with a cameraman and soundman and record all kinds of national folk music and dances.

"But right now I'm learning to ride a new Italian motor scooter. It's more fun than a Rolls-Royce."

There may be somebody on Broadway who gets more zest out of living than Burl Ives. If there is—he's keeping it to himself.

Many people, especially those over 45 years old, have 20/20 vision but need glasses for close work.

Barker Says Marriage Has Film Peril

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The trials of maintaining a happy marriage in Hollywood are described today by Lex Barker, who is wedded to a girl named Lana Turner.

Critics and commentators decry the rate of marital mishaps in Hollywood, yet they themselves can share the blame for some of the breakups. Witness the current engagement of Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher. The gossips are doing their best to break that one up.

Barker is perplexed by the rumor mongers. Recently he was absent from Lana for five weeks, mostly on location in the Virgin Islands and partly to visit his stricken father in the East.

While he was gone, one columnist reported Lana was hobnobbing with a bullfighter in Tijuana. Another declared her ex, Steve Crane, would be her next "after she divorces Lex Barker in the Virgin Islands."

Lex set the record straight: "Lana likes bullfights. I don't. So while I was gone, it looked like a good time to see them in Tijuana. She went down with some friends of mine, and a bullfight happened to be in the party."

"As for the other rumor, Steve Crane happens to be the father of my stepdaughter. He is entitled to visit his daughter. I was the one in the Virgin Islands, not Lana."

All of which shows how the tongue waggers can make something out of nothing. Lana's union to Lex has so far been the most tranquil of her marriages. They lead fairly quiet lives and give the gossips little grounds for talk.

"But they find something," Barker said. "It amazes me. First of all, they were yelling for us to get married. Nearly every columnist said it was shocking that we were in Europe together, even though we were both working there."

"Then after we got married, they seem eager to have us split up. You can't win."

Elevators in Rockefeller Center, New York City, have carried more than a billion passengers since they were installed in 1932.

Piper Laurie and Tony Curtis are a romantic twosome on the screen for the fourth time in Universal-International's Technicolor production of "Johnny Dark," which also co-stars Don Taylor, Paul Kelly, Ilka Chase, Sidney Blackmer and Ruth Hampton are featured in this William Alland production which was directed by George Sherman. Playing Sunday and Monday at the 50 Drive-In Theatre

Ava Gardner and Humphrey Bogart are co-starred in the Mature motion picture, "The Barefoot Contessa," starting today at the Fox Theatre. Filmed in Technicolor, the screen drama costars Edmond O'Brien, who won the best-supporting actor academy award for his role in this picture. To round out the "Oscar" program, the Fox has the academy ward Cinemascope cartoon and the winning short subject for 1954.

Shepherd Turns Cowboy

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—The Rev. Theodore A. Tuenge, will serve as a shipboard cowboy for the Christian Rural Overseas Program of farm aid to Europe.

He will take a cargo of 70 heifers to Germany. Tuenge's congregation of 900 gave him a two-month leave for the trip, and his church joined in a statewide drive in support of the heifer project. The herd he cares for will be known as the "Wolverine Shipment."

Glen Langkop Takes Training In Germany

Pfc. Glen E. Langkop, 21, whose wife, Deloris, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Langkop, live in Buncheon recently took part in a field leadership training maneuver with the 7th Field Artillery Battalion in Germany.

Operated with a depleted officer staff, the exercise was designed to test the leadership of the non-commissioned officers. Defensive maneuvers were stressed as the battalion faced a simulated attack. Langkop, who was graduated from Buncheon High School in 1951, is a radioman in the battalion's Battery C.

He entered the Army in September 1953, and arrived overseas in February of last year.

Horse Finds Uranium

WALSBERG, Colo. (AP)—Despite popular conceptions, uranium fortunes are not made overnight if at all. A lot of walking and digging and waiting is involved, along with a little luck—such as that of the owners of a palomino stallion.

A while back, O. L. Briscoe of Tucumcari, N.M., and Henry Walton of Clovis, N.M. took note of an Atomic Energy Commission aerial survey map of the Badito Cone area, 25 miles northwest of here.

The pair took two pack horses into the rough country for some prospecting. They climbed to within 300 feet of the top of rocky Badito Cone.

"We didn't realize the mountain was as rough as it was," Briscoe relates, "and we got lost."

"I was leading that old stud horse, loaded down with equipment, and Walton was walking behind."

"All at once the horse stumbled and fell. He was wriggling around like a snake on a hot rock."

"In his kicking, he knocked a bunch of snow and rocks loose and the scintillator in Walton's hand immediately showed a good reading."

"Right then and there we had located the Stumbling Stud Mine."

Official AEC assays of the ore run from .28 to .59 uranium, compared with AEC standards of .20 minimum for commercial ore in this area.

Champ's Fight On TV Limited To Theaters

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Television Viewers will receive a sharp reminder Monday night that not all big telecasts go to home sets.

There will be a nationwide telecast of Rocky Marciano's defense of his world heavyweight boxing championship against Don Cockell in San Francisco, but it will go only to theaters.

Boxing fans who want to see the telecast will have to pay about $3 on the average at one of the 80-odd theaters being linked for the event by Theater Network Television. Those who stay home can tune in a radio broadcast.

The event points up the widespread but relatively unpublicized use of closed circuit TV or entertainment, sports and business and industrial meetings.

It's the 12th theater telecast of boxing by TNT, the last previous one being the second Marciano-Ezzard Charles fight.

TNT and the rival Box Office Television both have done numerous closed circuit telecasts of nationwide sales conferences for industrial and business concerns.

BOT has done two theater telecasts of Metropolitan Opera performances, one in 1952 and the other last fall, and several of Notre Dame football games.

The big broadcasting network companies also have staged numerous closed circuit telecasts not transmitted over the air to home sets.

Participating theaters have found some of the boxing bouts and football games profitable, some not so. One entertainment event that didn't do well on closed circuit TV was the telecast in March of a special show by American National Theater and Academy to 33 theaters. Only one theater was a sellout and many had more seats empty than occupied.

Morgan County School Board Inspects Site

The board of education of the Morgan County Reorganized School District R-2 is examining a site west of Versailles for the possible location of the new $450,000 high school approved in a special bond election Tuesday.

When completed, the building will provide 12 classrooms, a library - study hall, lunchroom facilities, teachers' lounge, storage facilities, restrooms, service spaces and administration units. It will have a potential capacity of 350 to 400 students.

The building, to be arranged roughly in the shape of a "T", will be a single - story, fireproof structure of concrete block faced with buff brick. The floors will be covered with asphalt tile and the ceiling with acoustical tile.

The site now being inspected is a tract of land belonging to the A. J. LaFevre farm and containing about 30 acres, but a number of sites have been considered by the board. In a circular distributed by the board before the election, it stated that the only ground that lends itself to all favorable conditions is that immediately north of the proposed new highway bordering the northwest edge of Versailles.

In addition to the building itself,

Pvt. Lawson Arrives Home From Germany

Safe Salesmen RICHMOND, Va. — Here's a tale about the traveling salesman that you can believe. State police say he is the safest driver on the highways. Not a single traffic fatality occurred in an accident involving a traveling salesman last year. Police say they are driving every day and stay alert to road hazards.

the project will include new paving, roads, sidewalks, fencing, playgrounds and athletic fields. To pay off the bonds, it has been estimated by the board that an average levy not to exceed 60 cents per $100 valuation will be needed. It is planned to pay off the bonds over a period of 20 years.

Although the bond issue was approved Tuesday by a vote of 1,212 to 439, two precincts out of four rejected it. The other two were large enough to carry the issue anyhow. Versailles approved it 945 to 251. Glenavon approved it 212 to 31. Glenstead rejected it 84 to 27, and Excelsior did the same by a vote of 73 to 28.

Versailles Girl Wins Scholarship to CMSC

Carolyn Kay Moore of Versailles has been awarded a $400 scholarship in teacher education, Dr. W. F. Knox, managing secretary of the Central Missouri Teachers Association, Warrensburg, announced. Miss Moore is interested in preparing to teach social studies at the secondary level.

The Central Missouri Teachers Association established the teacher education scholarship in 1954 as a means of encouraging promising high school graduates to prepare for teaching. The student receives a grant of $100 each year for which he is enrolled in a teacher education program at Central Missouri State College. The recipient is obligated to teach as many years in the public schools of Missouri as scholarship allowance is made.

A second scholarship of equal value was awarded to Majorie Ann Snell of Jamestown, who is interested in preparing to teach music in the secondary school.

44 Large Firms Held Major Profits

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-four of the nation's biggest companies made about one third of all the profits reported by U. S. corporations in 1954.

The giants, by and large, had a more comfortable time than many a smaller company that found last year trying period. During the business slowdown, the larger company could call on resources the small one often didn't have.

Financial reports for 1954—a period of highly mixed business experience with 334,000 business casualties—emphasize the trend in recent years toward bigness. But the big getting bigger didn't discourage newcomers. The Department of Commerce says 341,000 new companies started up in 1954, making the total in the United States about 4,200,000.

Hutton & Co., lists today 44 companies making in excess of 40 million dollars each last year in net income after taxes. It omits a 45th, Ford, from the list because its 1954 earnings aren't available. Ford's 1953 profits are estimated at 165 million dollars, however, and 1954 seems sure to have been at least as high.

The top 44 earners listed by the brokerage firm raked in a total of 5½ billion dollars. This was 32 per cent of the total amount earned by all U. S. corporations reporting for the year.

Morgan County School Board Inspects Site

The board of education of the Morgan County Reorganized School District R-2 is examining a site west of Versailles for the possible location of the new $450,000 high school approved in a special bond election Tuesday.

When completed, the building will provide 12 classrooms, a library - study hall, lunchroom facilities, a teachers' lounge, storage facilities, restrooms, service spaces and administration units. It will have a potential capacity of 350 to 400 students.

The building, to be arranged roughly in the shape of a "T", will be a single - story, fireproof structure of concrete block faced with buff brick. The floors will be covered with asphalt tile.

The site now being inspected is a tract of land belonging to the A. J. LaFevre farm and containing about 30 acres, but a number of sites have been considered by the board. In a circular distributed by the board before the election, it stated that the only ground that lends itself to all favorable conditions is that immediately north of the proposed new highway bordering the northwest edge of Versailles.

In addition to the building itself,

Pvt. Lawson Arrives Home From Germany

Pvt. Harold G. Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lawson, 726 East Fourth, arrived home May 7 from Mannheim, Germany, where he has been stationed the past 18 months. He received his discharge at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Safe Salesmen

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Here's a tale about the traveling salesman that you can believe.

State police say he is the safest driver on the highways. Not a single traffic fatality occurred in an accident involving a traveling salesman last year. Police say they are driving every day and stay alert to road hazards.

The project will include new paving, roads, sidewalks, fencing, playgrounds and athletic fields.

To pay off the bonds, it has been estimated by the board that an average levy not to exceed 60 cents per $100 valuation will be needed. It is planned to pay off the bonds over a period of 20 years.

Although the bond issue was approved Tuesday by a vote of 1,212 to 439, two precincts out of four rejected it. The other two were large enough to carry the issue anyhow. Versailles approved it 945 to 251. Gravois approved it 212 to 31. Glenstead rejected it 84 to 27, and Excelsior did the same by a vote of 73 to 28.

Versailles Girl Wins Scholarship to CMSC

Carolyn Kay Moore of Versailles has been awarded a $400 scholarship in teacher education, Dr. W. F. Knox, managing secretary of the Central Missouri Teachers Association, Warrensburg, announced. Miss Moore is interested in preparing to teach social studies at the secondary level.

The Central Missouri Teachers Association established the teacher education scholarship in 1954 as a means of encouraging promising high school graduates to prepare for teaching. The student receives a grant of $100 each year for which he is enrolled in a teacher education program at Central Missouri State Colleges. The recipient is obligated to teach as many years in the public schools of Missouri as scholarship allowance is made.

A second scholarship of equal value was awarded to Majorie Ann Snell of Jamestown, who is interested in preparing to teach music in the secondary school.

Save a crop — pay for a baler

Save just one good 50-ton crop of choice green hay and you've more than paid for the low-cost Allis-Chalmers ROTO-BALER. Having your own ROTO-BALER makes it easy to beat the weather, to bale when hay is at its early-blossom best.

Once rolled inside the weather-resistant round bales, hay is protected by the curved layers that shed water like an umbrella. Hay can stay in the field for weeks... without rush... waiting for hauling, or for stock to help themselves without waste or extra labor.

Get ready now to save a crop. Be ready to roll when hay time comes. Come in today to check the advantages of having your own Allis-Chalmers ROTO-BALER now.

ROTO-BALER is an Allis-Chalmers trademark.

44 Large Firms Held Major Profits

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-four of the nation's biggest companies made about one third of all the profits reported by U. S. corporations in 1954.
The giants, by and large, had a more comfortable time than many a smaller company that found last year trying period. During the business slowdown, the larger company could call on resources the small one often didn't have.
Financial reports for 1954—a period of highly mixed business experience with 334,000 business casualties—emphasize the trend in recent years toward bigness. But the big getting bigger didn't discourage newcomers. The Department of Commerce says 341,000 new companies started up in 1954, making the total in the United States about 4,200,000.
